Epworth Church Dedication To Start Tonight

Week Of Special Services Is Planned Opening With Old Epworth Night

FAMOUS PASTOR TO PREACH ON SUNDAY

Church Organ Will Be Dedicated With Special Program Monday Evening

Dedication of the beautiful new stone church, home of the Epworth M. E. congregation, recently completed at the intersection of Butler avenue and East Washington street, will be started this evening, when a week of services of a varied nature will get under way.

Thursday evening, the opening date on the program, will be known as Old Epworth Night, when the guests of honor will include former Epworth pastors, former Grace M. E. pastors, the widows of former pastors, charter members and former members of the congregation now engaged in religious work elsewhere.

On Friday evening, a Fellowship supper will be served to which the public has been invited, and for which over 600 tickets have been sold. So generous has been the demand for tickets, that it will be necessary to have two servings at the tables, the first of which will take place at 5:30 and the second at 6:30.

Sunday Biggest Day

Sunday will be the big day in the dedication program. On Sunday morning, Rev. Ralph E. Diffendorfer D. D., Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions will be the principal speaker.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

One couldn't kick much about the weather last night. It was one of the coolest we have experienced in some time, and Pa Newc had a difficult time in answering the old alarm clock this morning.

Pa Newc is informed that weeds have grown so high along the East Brook road, just near the city limits, that auto drivers cannot see cars approaching around the curve in the highway. These weeds should be cut down.—And there are a lot of other places in the city where weed cutting would benefit also.

Wheat harvesting is under way in Lawrence County, and these are busy days on the farm. Good weather has so far been experienced for the harvesting. On farms where there is no wheat to cut, hay is being mowed and gathered into the barns.

A resident on Northview avenue complains that several large trees are growing on the edge of the sidewalk and should be removed. The trees are located near Highland avenue.

After Fairmont avenue had been paved the city forgot to remove two humps on either side of Albert street which was cut through by the new pavement. Motorists say it would be a great help if the humps were removed.

There's a lad at Mt. Jackson that could give lessons in fishing to some of the disciples of Isaac Walton in this city. When Pa Newc came

Perform Operation To Separate Twins

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, July 9.—Born as one by a growth connecting their abdomen, twin sisters, two days old, exercised their lungs as individuals in Mercy Hospital's baby ward today following one of the most remarkable operations ever performed in surgical history. It was the first operation of such a nature performed in Maryland.

The babies weigh four and one-half pounds and their bassinets were surrounded today by prominent surgeons and hospital officials who wanted to see first hand a major achievement of surgery.

Dr. Kyle W. Golley, who performed the operation, said today it was too early to say whether the operation was successful but the nurses caring for the infants reported "they were just as bright as ever."

Another operation will have to be made upon the two babies before they will be able to live normal, individual lives. This probably will be performed within a day or two, depending on how each reacts to the first.

Thorough X-ray examinations that will disclose the size and location of every organ in their bodies, also will be made, the surgeons said.

Probe Report Aliens In Mine Troubles Are In Country Illegally

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—U. S. immigration service attaches today were to investigate conditions in the strike torn St. Clairsville, O., soft coal field where charges have been made that numerous aliens, illegally in this country, are residing.

Deportation of all aliens arrested in connection with disorders has been promised by Prosecutor Paul Waddell of Belmont county.

W. W. Marshall, head of the immigration office here, said agents from his office would confine themselves solely to investigation of illegal entry reports and would have nothing to do with the strike.

Strike activities continued in a somewhat subdued atmosphere in western Pennsylvania. Three women and two men were arrested yesterday while picketing the Coverdale mine of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation.

Thirteen of 42 arrested at the Wildwood demonstration, climaxed by the death of one man, were released on their own recognizance by Judge James H. Gray.

To Seek Bids On Pymatuning Dam

Resident Engineer Says That Bids Will Be Asked Around July 15

According to Ralph J. Ferris of Linesville, resident engineer for the State Department of Forests and Waters on the Pymatuning Dam project, bids for the construction of the dam and spillways will be sought about July 15, or shortly thereafter.

The necessary work on the plans and specifications is being rushed in preparation for the asking of bids, and the preliminary work has been practically completed. The work has been speeded up to a point about 15 days ahead of what had originally been planned.

Resignation Of Bronson Accepted

Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Group Names Vice President To Post

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association held last evening the resignation of J. W. Bronson as president of the association was presented.

The resignation was accepted by the committees, and Vice-President C. B. Patton, will assume the duties of the president for the unexpired term after which time the office of president can be filled. Mr. Bronson has served as president seven years.

Body Found In Vacant House

Remains Of Sidney J. Fleming Discovered By F. S. Cartwright Wednesday Evening

BELIEVED DEAD FOR SOME TIME

Sidney J. Fleming, aged 46, was found dead in a vacant house at 510 Croton avenue Wednesday evening about five o'clock. Discovery of the body was made by F. S. Cartwright, who lives nearby. Cartwright called police headquarters and Coroner J. P. Caldwell was notified.

George Kennedy and H. E. Richards responded to the call from police headquarters. Investigation by the officers and coroner showed Fleming lying on a mattress in a bedroom of the vacant house. He was partially face downward. The body was discolored and the indications were that he had been dead for some time.

The house in which he was found belongs to the Winternitz estate. It has been unoccupied for some time. Fleming, who had not been living with his family for some time, had placed a mattress on the floor of a bedroom and occasionally slept in

Coal Strikers Are Headed For Capital

Two Hundred Strikers Leave Pittsburgh By Motor Trucks Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—With the avowed aim of picketing an informal mine operators conference at Washington, a cavalcade of bituminous coal strikers was enroute by motor truck to the nation's capital today.

The cavalcade was comprised of 200 members of the national miners' union which has opposed and condemned the conference, called at the request of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The trucks swung out of Pittsburgh on the road to Washington last night. Occupants of the vehicles declared efforts would be made to collect funds for destitute miners on the streets and in the homes of Washington.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 9.—Show you what enterprise will do. Claremore was one of the few towns that was built up so solid that it had no landing field. Even the adjoining country was one mass of suburban homes.

Well, overnight, in order to get our great Oklahoma pilot, Post, and his famous partner, Gatty, to come there, they just tore down and blasted out blocks of homes and now they got the best landing field in the world (outside of the Templehoff Field in Berlin) just ten minutes drive from the heart of Claremore Course.

(Due to a constant Republican administration) most of these destroyed homes were mortgaged, but at that it shows what a real town can do.

My friend Hawks has suggested making a landing field out of New York City. I knew somebody would think of a useful use for that ground some day.

Yours,

Will Rogers

Mrs. Paul Mager Receives Broken Collar Bone When Auto Leaves Road

Mrs. Paul Mager of 22 East North street received a broken collar bone, bruises and a possible fracture of the wrist Wednesday afternoon when the automobile in which she was riding careened off the New Castle - New Wilmington highway, near the entrance to the New Castle Field Club. The accident occurred at about three o'clock.

Mrs. Mager and Mrs. W. J. Kinder of Quest street were en route home to New Castle from New Wilmington. Mrs. Kinder was driving the car, which belongs to Paul Mager. Mrs. Kinder was endeavoring to pass a New York licensed automobile, also headed toward New Castle. They came to a curve in the road, sideswiped each other and the Mager machine went into the ditch at the left of the road. The other car went off in a field, but neither the occupants nor the machine were hurt, according to report.

Mrs. Mager was taken to New Castle by a motorist passing by and received treatment for her injuries from a local physician.

Coal Industry Being Studied At Conference

Secretary Lamont Meets Leaders At Washington To Hear Facts

GOVERNMENT MAY BE ABLE TO ASSIST

Overproduction Regarded As Big Trouble In Coal Fields Since War

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 9.—America's ailing coal industry was laid out for preliminary diagnosis today, when representative operators from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other districts met with Secretary Lamont in the first serious cooperative effort of operators, miners and the government to put this industry back on a satisfactory economic basis.

Lamont called the operators here to hear from them the unfavorable symptoms which are now exhibited by the bituminous coal industry, held to be in a more serious plight than the anthracite branch.

Wants To Aid

There may be ways in which the government can help the coal industry get a solution of its problem; Lamont wanted to get from the operators what they thought could be done and if possible, to put the constructive recommendations into effect.

The gathering is the first upshot of a request made of President Hoover by John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America sometime ago, that the government make an effort to assist the coal industry.

Mr. Hoover referred the matter to Lamont and Secretary Doak, the Labor Department, the former having assumed the responsibility of studying the case from the standpoint of the operators and the latter to obtain the viewpoint of the miners.

Overproduction Big Problem

The principal problem of the bituminous industry is that of overproduction, while from the labor

Hear Appeal For A. B. Fall

Plea Is Made In Behalf Of Suspension Of Jail Sentence

CLAIM HEALTH IS BADLY IMPAIRED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Declaring that it would be "inhuman" to send former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to jail, Frank J. Hogan, his counsel, today asked Justice Jennings Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme court to suspend sentence.

Hogan's motion followed presentation by Atlee Pomerene, special government counsel, of the mandate of the U. S. Supreme court, to which Fall unsuccessfully appealed from a sentence of one year in jail and $100,000 fine for bribery.

The physical condition of Fall has become steadily worse since he was tried for his part in the alleged fraudulent leasing of the Elks Hills naval oil reserves to the Edward L. Doheny interests. Fall was charged

Mrs. Rudy Vallee Remains In Seclusion After News Of Wedding Becomes Known

By FRANK JACOBS
International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 9.—President Hoover's moratorium project seemed forgotten. Likewise the humidity and the Prince of Wales' new suit.

The national mind, and particularly the feminine portion of it, had turned to a topic closer to its heart, to-wit: the secret marriage of Rudy Vallee, the crooning idol, and Miss Fay Webb, movie actress.

News of the event, which took place Monday night in West Orange, N. J., only leaked out last night. But 10,000 telegrams have already poured into the honeymoon apartment on Central Park West from all over the country. And telegraph companies have put on more operators in anticipation of other tens of thousands to come.

The telephone company complains that its service has been handicapped by the event.

Not since Colonel Charles Augustus Lindbergh, lone eagle, married Senator Dwight W. Morrow's daughter, Anne, has a wedding aroused such interest in the United States.

Bride in Seclusion

While his bride, brunette daughter of the chief of police of Santa Monica, Cal., remained in seclusion, Rudy talked briefly to newspaper men. He wore white, from head to foot, and explained it thus: "You know, white is the marriage color."

His statement read: "I am terribly, terribly happy. Thousands of telegrams and calls have left me dizzy. I can't talk much now, but I will say a real home and love is more important than a cold career, and I'm not crooning through a megaphone now."

The pair had been secretly engaged for six months, it developed. Though their parents were neighbors in Canada, they first met two years ago, when Rudy went to Hol-

Grease Found To Be Liquor

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 9—Billed as linseed oil, grease and dry goods, more than $12,000 worth of assorted Canadian liquors entered Pittsburgh via the normal conveyance of railroad transportation—but today the shipments only consignee proved to be the federal prohibition department.

The contrabond, made in three shipments, was believed to have been smuggled from Canada to Boston harbor and then sent here by rail.

Here's the way the shipment arrived: one, in barrels, was billed linseed oil; a second, in steel drums, was billed grease, and the third, in boxes, was labeled dry goods.

Agents said the consignees were fictitious.

New Broadway Murder Mystery

Man Found Dead In Hotel —May Be New Method Of Gang Killing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 9.—A bathroom of a midtown hotel today gave a fresh Broadway murder mystery—the body of a man who had been stabbed through the back to the heart, garroted and his throat slashed.

The victim had registered at the hotel at 2:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon as "William Harris," giving a fictitious New York address.

That, together with the disappearance of another man who accompanied him to the hotel and was assigned an adjoining room, caused detectives to believe it was a gang murder, a new way of putting a victim on the spot.

The missing man was registered as "G. Grossman, of Bridgeport."

Cunningham Lets Contract For Fine Colonial Residence

New Castle Firm Gets Contract For Residence To Be Built Near New Wilmington

R. C. Cunningham of the city on Wednesday afternoon let a contract to Edward Porter and Edward Hoover, New Castle contractors, for a fine residence to be erected near New Wilmington on the road leading to New Wilmington junction. The house will cost around $35,000. The location is near the Rufus Patterson residence.

A. L. Thayer of this city, designed the house, which is to be a brick structure of Colonial design. The brick are to be enameled white, after a style which has become popular of late. The house will consist of three bath rooms, steam heat, and will be the very latest in design and construction throughout. The brick work is to be done by Stewart Sampson, of this city.

Porter and Hoover broke ground for the excavation today, and expect to have the house completed by fall. It will be one of the finest residences, not only in New Wilmington, but in the county.

Japan Prepares Welcome For American Fliers

By JAMES R. YOUNG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKIO, July 9.—The flowery kingdom will give an unparalleled welcome to the Forth Worth if it reaches its destination. Reg Robbins and his navigator, Harold Jones, are due at Tokio Friday at 11 a. m. eastern daylight saving time.

Thousands of Japanese were today eagerly awaiting news of the progress of the non-stop flyers on their way to this city from Seattle, Wash. Among the honors which probably will be accorded them is an audience with the Mikado.

Weather reports indicate that the Texas flyers will have a tail wind to help them as they skirt the barren shores of the peninsula of Kamchatka and speed over the Kurile Islands to the end of their 5100-mile flight.

The Fort Worth is attempting to win a $25,000 prize offered by the Tokio newspaper Asahi for the first successful non-stop from the United States to Tokio.

Jones' Father Is Confident Flight Will Be Success

Harold Doesn't Do Any Foolish Tricks His Father Declares

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 9. — "Harold doesn't do any foolish tricks or stunting, so we're pretty sure he's going to get across," is the way John P. Jones explains his feeling about his son who is winging his way to Tokio on a proposed non-stop flight across the Pacific Ocean.

He admitted being a little nervous and said his wife was too but she didn't show it.

Jones, 70, is superintendent of a building here. He and Mrs. Jones are following the flight of their son by radio at their summer home at Long Beach, Mich., but Mr. Jones was at work as usual yesterday.

"We know, his mother and I, that he has made up his mind to do it, so we'll just have to trust to luck. That's all," the elder Jones said.

The flyer was born in Chicago 36 years ago and went to school here. He has been interested in aviation about three years, receiving his first lessons from a Mexican between Tampico and Mexico City when he was manager of the Tampico fields of the Midland Oil Company, of which he is now president, with offices at Fort Worth, Tex. Jones is a bachelor.

the house. The doors of the house were locked from the inside and the windows were closed, except for broken glass.

Discovers Body

Cartwright went to the house to get some paint cans that had been left there. He found the back door bolted, but reached through a broken glass and unlocked it. Inside he noticed a peculiar odor, which led to the discovery of the body. Police and coroner found nothing that would indicate that Fleming had died other than a natural death. He had been subject to epileptic attacks for many years. It is believed that death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, possibly following an attack.

On July 4th Fleming took dinner at the Shook residence nearby. A number of persons recalled that they had seen him on last Sunday, and one man felt positive that he had seen him on Monday. Nobody was found who had seen him after that date.

Mr. Fleming is survived by his wife and four children. He is also survived by four sisters and one brother.

Owing to the condition of the body it was necessary to hold the funeral this morning at 8:30. Ensign V. Thomsen of the Salvation Army, conducted a short service at the grave.

COAL INDUSTRY BEING STUDIED AT CONFERENCE

standpoint there probably are too many miners. As a result of the situation a majority of the miners, it is said, get considerably less than full time work, if employed at all, while profits are small or non-existent, except with the most efficiently operated bituminous mines.

The troubles of the bituminous industry have been acute since the war. At that time a big production capacity was built up through more efficient machinery for mining coal, resulting in a larger output per man. Following the war there has been a general move toward fuel conservation, such as the use of hydroelectric power and electrfied railroads and other industries reducing the coal requirement.

Beset With Labor Troubles

During the post war period the coal industry has been beset with labor troubles, including the recent difficulties in the Pennsylvania fields and the dramatic march of a miners' army over the mountains of West Virginia to the non-union stronghold in Logan county, which was climaxed by the dispatching of United States Army regulars to quell the disturbance. This march resulted in the trial of a large number of miners at Charleston, West Va., for treason, although none was convicted for this offense.

Doak, it was expected, would summon a group of miner leaders here to get information as to their views. It was thought possible that a general conference would be called of all interested parties if the preliminary gatherings offer a basis promising a solution of the various problems. Some of the opponents of the United Mine Workers are not favorably inclined to the series of conferences and have threatened to picket the gatherings as a form of protest.

Propose Plan

Wheeling, W. Va., July 9. — A group of prominent Ohio Valley citizens today awaited the reaction to their proposed plan for the stabilization of the bituminous coal industry, its main feature being the nomination by the governors of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia of the presidents of the three state universities as a regulatory tribunal for the soft coal district.

The educators, under the plan, would be given dictatorial powers and a new competitive field would be formed comprising Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and the Northern Panhandle, Morgantown, Fairmont and Kanawha areas of West Virginia.

Private ownership of mines with operators united under the guidance of the state governments acting in their own sovereignty to preserve natural resources also is suggested.

Deny Strike Claims

Charleston, W. Va., July 9. — Claims to the efficacy of the strike in West Virginia were denied today by the Kanawha Coal Operations Association.

Returning from a trip through the strike area, D. C. Kennedy, secretary of the association, said:

"Out of 12 mines, four are working with a full force, four are working with a 50 per cent force, two are idle because of the lack of orders and two are down.

MRS. RUDY VALLEE REMAINS IN SECLUSION

lywood to film "The Vagabond Lover".

The crooner told the truth when he denied reports of an engagement between them which arose from their frequent appearances together after that. But he admits how he "might have erred slightly" in denying a renewal of these reports when Miss Webb visited New York later.

Rudy was too busy with his orchestra and radio work then to even buy an engagement ring for his secret fiancee. But he asked Fay what kind of a ring she would like.

"I want a ring like Norma Shearer has," she said.

Ring Cost $7,500

And so Rudy had a friend go out and buy her a pear-shaped engagement ring, which is said to have set the crooner back $7,500. The wedding ring was of platinum, set with diamonds.

Following the wedding, performed by Police Recorder Herbert Lightnite in the West Orange board of health offices, the ceremonial party repaired to Tommy Guinan's club Napoleon to celebrate. And who should be seated at the very next table but Agnes O'Loughlin and her new boy friend. Agnes had once claimed Rudy as her boy friend and had sued him for $200,000 when he denied it.

Rudy turned almost as white as his "marriage color", even though he had already told Fay about Agnes. However, friendly smiles were exchanged and finally Agnes and her new boy friend moved into the party and drank a toast to the bride.

"I really wish them all the happiness in the world," Miss O'Loughlin said later. "Rudy is one swell fellow. I knew he would wed a girl like Fay. He always said he liked the Lenore Ulrich type. You know—dark and fiery. Fay is just like that."

A packed house awaited Rudy to conduct his orchestra on the Pennsylvania Hotel roof last night. He showed up at 9:30, but begged off, explaining he was too excited to work. However, the crowd kept calling for him, and finally he returned and took up his baton at 11:30 to continue until closing time.

Mrs. Rudy, however, did not appear. She remained at the newlyweds' apartment, chiefly occupied in signing for telegrams and answering telephone calls.

HEAR APPEAL FOR A. B. FALL

with accepting a $100,000 bribe from Doheny.

A report of the medical staff of William Beaumont Army hospital, El Paso, Texas, was placed before the court. It covered an examination made between June 20 and June 24.

Surgeon-general Patterson said that Fall has inactive pulmonary tuberculosis, chronic arthritis affecting the spine, chronic myocarditis, arteriosclerosis and pleurisy.

The army physicians declined to say whether Fall was fit to go to prison, saying they did not feel competent to accept any responsibility by making prediction.

Hogan submitted the analysis of the diagnosis made by Drs. Frank Leech, Thomas A. Clayton and William D. Tewksbury, all of Washington. These comprised the board named by the court when Fall collapsed during the trial here in 1929.

Dr. Leech said Fall is in a very serious physical condition and might have a rupture of a blood vessel at any time which might cause paralysis. He said if Fall were moved from the dry climate of New Mexico his tuberculosis might become active.

Dr. Clayton said imprisonment of Fall "would undoubtedly disastrously affect his physical condition."

Dr. Tewksbury said imprisonment of Fall "would seriously injure his health and materially shorten his life."

DISARMAMENT ISSUE PRESSED HOME ON EUROPE

petitive armament, both land and sea.

Today, Stimson is conferring with the Italians. Later on he will go to Paris, Berlin and London on the same mission. His particular job in Rome and Paris is to try to bridge the naval gap between the French and Italians, which developed during the last London conference and resulted in the failure to arrive at a five-power naval agreement.

Inevitably, the war debt moratorium for one year figures in the discussions. While he probably will not put it so bluntly, Stimson will in effect inform Europe that unless there is an appreciable disposition to cut down armament the United States cannot see its way clear to go ahead financing Europe indefinitely.

"Europe disarm!" is the burden of his message and his mission, although it must be carried out with all the traditional diplomatic finesse and fencing that is inherent in such undertakings.

The Geneva conference meets in February. By that time it will be fairly apparent whether a year's extension of the war debt moratorium is necessary. No one in Washington doubts that an extension will be necessary. A year is too short a time for Germany and the world to recover from the staggering illness of the economic depression. In fact, there is some misgivings here as to whether even the heroic application of the moratorium poultice will save Germany from financial collapse. The dispatches from Berlin today were none too sanguinary.

In any event, it is recognized here that the question of extending the war debt holiday will be uppermost in the minds of the statesmen who gather at Geneva in February. In such circumstances, it is only logical that President Hoover's representatives there will use the club that providence has placed in their hands to impress upon Europe the necessity of shearing their military and naval budgets.

Armament reduction has become the current passion of the administration. For several months past, President Hoover has lost no opportunity to stress the reduction of military and naval expenditures as the one great remedy for governmental economic palsy. He dwelt upon it at length in his speech to the international chamber of commerce meeting here in May, and he re-emphasized it in the announcement of his moratorium plan.

EPWORTH CHURCH DEDICATION TO START TONIGHT

bring a message from the Methodists of the district.

The principal speaker of the afternoon will be Rev. Chas. T. Greer D. D. pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Warren, Pa., and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greer, members of the congregation.

On Sunday evening, Rev. Fred C. Reynolds, D. D., pastor of the Grace M. E. Church of Baltimore, Md., and a former member of the congregation will bring the message.

Monday evening, the beautiful new pipe organ will be dedicated, with Earl Mitchell, organist of the Shadyside Presbyterian church presiding, assisted by Wilbur Evans, baritone of Philadelphia.

Tuesday evening, will be known as New Castle night and at this time, the religious drama, "He Came Seeing" which was presented by the Epworth church young people in the recent religious drama tournament, will be reproduced under the direction of Howard M. Wylie.

Wednesday evening, will be Young People's Night when Dr. William T. Tolley, President of Allegheny College will be the speaker.

History Reveals Sacrifices

Special music will be provided at all services and record congregations are expected to attend.

The Epworth M. E. church was founded in the year 1874, when a number of members from the First M. E. church, residing on the East Side, and inconvenienced in attending services because of geograhpical difficulties, began meeting in the homes in the district. This practice created a demand for a new church, and so they organized the Second Methodist Episcopal church.

A committee composed of John F. Reynolds, Samuel Foltz, George C. Rice and Samuel McCreary had previously purchased five acres of land on Pearson street for $5,000, as a National Holiness Camp Meeting Ground. It was used for that purpose for ten years. On a part of this land, a frame structure was erected for the newly formed church during the pastorate of Rev. J. A. Ward, and was used until the year 1884, when it was burned.

This seemed like a dire calamity, but with zeal, sacrifice, and Christian fortitude the people decided to rebuild. Under the leadership of Rev. H. E. Johnson, a large brick structure was erected: and at its dedication, the name of the congregation was changed to Epworth, after the birthplace of John Wesley.

It has been a long time since that first organization, and the fourth generation of those first Epworth families are now entering the Church. The founders were of sturdy pioneer stock, loyal to the early traditions of Methodism, faithful to God, self-sacrificing in spirit. The impetus of their efforts has come down through the years, so that at the present time a membership of eleven hundred is moving from the old church into the magnificent edifice which is being dedicated this week.

The financial difficulties of the early Church were great, but from the beginning it prospered in membership. The records show that each pastorate has had a steady and substantial growth. In 1876, just two years after the founding of our Church there was an average attendance of 160 in the Sunday School.

Found Grace Church

In November, 1899, a number of Epworth members living in the southern part of the city withdrew amicably, and formed Grace church. This movement was sponsored by the mother Church, as a Church was needed in that part of the city This Church had a history of which it might well be proud. When the shifting population brought about a change in conditions, it was thought best to unite the two congregations: and in 1929 the two Churches were merged. To keep the name ever before the returning members, the Sunday School assembly room has been named "Grace Chapel" as a perpetual memorial. Both congregations are happy in the re-union.

For years the project of a new edifice had been discussed. This was brought to a head in the Spring of 1929. After unanimous action by the Official Board to build a new church, a congregation meeting was called, at which the action of the Official Board was ratified. The site was selected, committees were formed, and the erection of the new building was begun in the Spring of 1930. By much prayerful planning and labor on the part of the Committees, and the loyal co-operation and sacrifice of the congregation, they have at last reached the goal.

FORT WORTH IS BEGINNING HOP ACROSS PACIFIC

"Fort Worth" over the city of Nome and again refueled the white and gold monoplane.

The crew of the refueling plane revealed that they had twice refueled the "Fort Worth" while enroute from Fairbanks to Nome.

The refueling crew said they would land at Solomon following their 3:30 a. m. refueling contact with the "Fort Worth" over here, take on more gasoline and follow the nonstop plane across Bering Straits to Siberia where a final refueling would take place.

Weather Bad

The weather early this morning had been extremely bad for flying. visibility was practically nil and this was believed to have accounted for the necessity for frequent refuelings in order to fill the tanks of the "Fort Worth" to their 416 gallon capacity.

During the early hours low lying clouds seemed to almost touch the waters of Bering Sea over which the flyers must hop.

However, conditions began to improve and the weather was considerably better when the 3:30 a. m. refueling took place.

The flight from Fairbanks to Solomon required about five hours and a half contrasted with the record breaking flight of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty over that distance. The round the world fliers made the approximate 600 miles in three hours and seven minutes.

However, this speed was about the same maintained by the "Fort Worth" on its first leg from Seattle to Fairbanks and it was believed here that the necessity of refueling twice enroute from Fairbanks to Nome had occasioned slight delay.

Over Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, July 9.—Reg. L. Robbins and Harold S. Jones, Texas flyers, were speeding toward Nome early today on their thrilling 5,100-mile non-stop refueling flight form Seattle to Tokio.

The flyers, who left Seattle Wednesday morning, completed their refueling over Fairbanks at 7:43 p. m. last night (1:43 a. m. Eastern Daylight Time, Thursday) and turned their plane, the Fort Worth, toward Nome.

They disconnected with the refueling ship three minutes after making connection.

Robbins and Jones left Seattle at 3:57 o'clock a. m. and arrived here at 7:32 in the evening, making the 1,500 miles in ideal flying weather.

If successful in their argosy, they will receive a prize of $25,000 offered by a Tokio newspaper for the first successful non-stop flight westward to Japan.

The Texas airmen expect to reach Japan at 11 o'clock Friday morning (Eastern Daylight Time.)

They probably will fly from Alaska over the stormy Bering Sea, dwon the coast of Siberia and over the Kurile Islands to the land of cherry blossoms.

A second refueling contact may be made at Solomon, 36 miles east of Nome, with a final contact for fuel planned over the coast of Siberia. The refueling plane will accompany the Japan-bound flyers as far as Siberia.

The elapsed time of 17 hours and 36 minutes for the flight from Seattle here was accounted for when the flyers encountered headwinds out of Fairbanks and were forced to fly at reduced speed. They also had taken a course inland, north over British Columbia and Yukon Territory, and probably added several hundred miles to the air-line course between the two cities.

James J. Mattern and Nick Greener, two Texas flyers who make up the refueling crew, quickly passed the load of 220 gallons of fuel to the Tokio flyers and then the two planes started for Seward Peninsila and Nome.

Robbins and Jones' ship is a snow-white monoplane. It is a duplicate of the Post-Gatty World flight plane, except for the motor.

The route planned for the flyers on their leg to Nome was over Nenana, Tanana, Ruby and Nulato.

Robbins and Jones carried two vest-type life preservers and three pounds of emergency rations. Their plane had no life raft, parachutes or radio. They also carried fishing tackle, in case of a forced landing, and a lunch for two days, consisting of sandwiches and water. A two gallon jug of fresh water was also carried in their plane.

Probe Jailing Of Mexican Consul

Governor Orders Investigation Of Action In Chicago Recently

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 9—Circumstances of the jailing of Senor Adolfo Dominguez, acting Mexican consul in Chicago, for contempt of court were being investigated today by a representative of Gov. Louis L. Emmerson.

The governor would not disclose who was making the inquiry but said the report was expected immediately and would be forwarded to the state department at Washington without publication.

Dominguez was released on a writ of habeas corpus after serving four hours of a six months sentence given by Municipal Judge Thomas A. Green.

The judge insists that the consul interrupted his court and defied him to send him to jail. The consul's lawyer, T. R. Baker, claimed Dominguez was sentenced unjustly after the judge had poured forth a tirade against the consul and Mexican government.

The consul and his attorney had gone to Green's court to assist in the prosecution of two Italian youths accused of driving a Mexican girl off a bathing beach.

Boy's Foot Is Badly Injured

Last night Officer George Kennedy ordered the bathers below the East Washington street bridge on Neshannock creek to cease bathing there, acting under orders, and Walter Shuffert, aged 13, 220 Cottage street, in getting out of the stream and while walking along the creek near the Rohrer gunshop, stepped on a broken milk bottle, cutting his foot clear across. The boy was removed to the New Castle hospital by Officers Lockard, McKibben and Kennedy, where several stitches were required to sew up the wound.

Boys Victors In Neshannock Creek Bathing Argument

Force City Employes To Abandon Effort To Tear Down Dam

Neshannock creek near the Croton avenue crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad, where the boys constructed a dam below the slackwater at that point in the river for bathing purposes, was the scene of a merry controversy yesterday afternoon.

There had been agreement, it is said, between the city and the boys that this dam was to be disposed of and another constructed a short distance away, due to the objection of property owners to the proximity of the dam.

Yesterday the city sent a number of street department employes to the scene to tear down the old dam, but they found the boys out in force and as fast as the employes attempted to tear down the dam the boys were either building it up or throwing water and stones at the city employes.

Officers U. G. Harper and George Wyman were detailed to handle the situation, but as they were without "boots, bathing suits and armor plate protection" they gracefully withdrew. The result was that the boys triumphed and the dam is still there.

"LESS TALKING AND MORE LISTENING"

ADMIRATION for the part Mr. Mellon played at the conference in Paris, and before that in London in conversations with the British government, is being freely and deservedly expressed in three capitals.

The full degree of credit in the settlement of a difficult problem is not yet known; perhaps it never will be. It is said in Washington that he did more listening and less talking than anyone else—an excellent rule to follow in diplomatic negotiations. Mr. Mellon has now, after years of administering the difficult treasury department as no one else since Hamilton had administered it, appeared upon the scene as a trained diplomatist. A quiet, retiring, even shy man, he has captured the popular imagination of two hemispheres.

Perhaps the British understood even better than the French an impassively courteous attitude, silent and restrained, broken by the briefness of questions and answers going to the root of the matter. The picture of him sitting through the more or less excited debates at the Paris conference, apparently almost oblivious to the proceedings, and then suddenly saying the right word at the right time, is one that reveals his character to his own countrymen as perhaps it has never been revealed before. There could not have been a better spokesman for the administration at this critical time believes the Inquirer of Philadelphia. And secretary of the treasury would presumably have had all the financial facts at his fingers' ends; but not every one would so infallibly have hit upon what the French recognized as just right.

There is less occasion for wonder that a man of seventy-six should have been able to endure the physical strain; that is more a matter of temperament than of age. Mr. Mellon is younger than Mr. Root, or than Gladstone and Palmerston were at the height of their political power. Yet it is doubtless true that men in American public life often wear themselves out too quickly by lack of Mr. Mellon's cool restraint. He has been able to crown his career by a service his countrymen should be the first to appreciate.

STRONG AS EVER

Few men and fewer women begin life without the ambition to own a home of their own. A place which in mind at least is to be almost sacred. A castle protected by the law of the land safe from intrusion. Where the family is to be reared; to be adorned and beautified during the vigorous years of life and then truly a haven of refuge in the declining years.

Men and women are the same today as yesterday. Instincts are the same. Inherent qualities are not controlled by changed conditions. Modern life may suggest subterfuges for a home, may make the realization of the desire for a home difficult, but though the subterfuge triumph and the desire fall, the instinct thought stifled is as strong as ever.

There are those who regret that the modern idea suggests placing the home secondary in importance in life. Why a castle, when theaters, dances, card parties and amusements in public places must be attended every night in the week? Too many consider the home with family prayers, family gatherings and a place which is considered habitable several evenings during the week, one which is presided over by some old fogey. The pendulum has swung forward and will swing back. There will come the time when the home owning and home loving instinct will prevail and the home be reinstated.

CONSIDER THE PENNY

When times were good it was observed that the penny was good only for buying newspapers and paying the odd cents of the street car fare. But that was when the prosperity era was at its height. Last year the lowly copper regained some of its lost prestige by accounting for 90 per cent of coins minted in the United States. The government found a demand for 84,181,000 new Lincoln heads in 1930.

When the government mints or prints money it is because there is not enough of currency in that particular denomination in circulation. Last year it found an unusually small demand for small change, the three mints turning out only 98,236,500 coins, compared with 399,467,200 in the preceding year.

The reason for this marked drop in demand probably lies in the fact that millions of coins hoarded in cupboard banks during the prosperity period went back into circulation when wages stopped and salaries shrank for millions. Young America isn't finding it so easy to accumulate coins of all sizes and denominations since the adult members of the family have learned anew how to count out the price in coins instead of breaking another bill.

Metallic money never constitutes more than a small fraction of the total currency in circulation, and last year that fraction was so small that gold coins, always scarce, represented two-thirds of the face value of the country's total mintage.

THE "SNAKE DRIVER"

The "snake driver" comes in for attention. He is the fellow who weaves in and out of the line of traffic, who suddenly and without signal, decides to go to left or right. A registrar of motor vehicles in Pennsylvania says he is responsible for 285 accidents in that state within a single month. Pennsylvania is not the only state infested with snake drivers. The breed thrives wherever travel is heavy and men in a hurry. To save five minutes the "snake driver" will risk his own life and those of many others. He is called snake because of his weaving course and because, sometimes, he strikes. Perhaps—though it is a faint hope—the name will have discouraging influence.—The Oakland Tribune.

The Golden Rug
The Light Through the Door
And What Is a Home?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I see a little house set back a ways from the old dirt road that wanders easily down a hill.

The night is dark. No moon. No stars. No single shadows anywhere. But a warm breeze blows, from the hills for the cut hay, from the fragrant apple orchard. The little house rests comfortably there, between two great trees, an oak and a fig.

There are old folks in that little house. You can see them sitting at a table in the "front room." You can imagine them there, just as easy as anything. The old man reads his paper, through steel-rimmed spectacles; the old lady darns a sock. She has one of those wooden, egg-shaped things with a handle on it, and she works away quietly in the night. There's a coil-oil lamp on the table, and it's been burning every night for forty years or so.

And the light of the lamp shines out through the open front door and makes a bright spot on the little step and down the path a ways. It is a golden rug, and they spread it each night before their doorway, a sign that they are not afraid and that you will be welcome if you push open the front gate and walk down that dark path to their door.

The rug is woven of many things. Of hard work and patient ambitions. Of grief and struggle and quiet philosophy that takes up the shock of life's disappointments.

It is woven of hope, it is woven of faith. Somewhere in its pattern is a wisp of yellow hair, and near it a brown one, and further along a scrap of a letter written home from the city—from a child who was here for a while and then went away.

But there's the golden rug, unpretentious but glowing in the night, and simply patterned except where it falls across a corner of the old lady's flower bed.

This is a home and somehow it fills that homely difinition in the poem that Robert Frost wrote:

"Home is the place where, when you have to go there,
They have to take you in.
I should have called it
Something you somehow haven't to deserve."

You do not go in. It is not your home, though you feel you would be made courteously welcome there. But it leaves a warm memory in your heart, and as you go your own way you tell yourself again that there's hardly anything in this world more friendly than the golden rug that lies at the doorway of a little peopled house by an old dirt road.

THE CHOICE

Last night I dreamed an angel came to me
And said: "A joy I've come to take away.
God thinks you richer than you ought to be,
But he has left to you the right to say
Which of your treasures you can easiest spare
Your money or your health or loved one's fair?

"Think carefully before you speak the word
Perhaps your eyesight you'de be glad to lose?
Those ears which catch the softly spoken word,
To give them up you possibly may choose?
If money means all happiness, no doubt
There's something else you'd rather do without."

The angel stood beside my bed and smiled.
"Think well" she said, "before the word you give.
Suppose I take your lovely wife or child
And leave you with your riches still to live?"
'No, No" I cried. "Since it is mine to choose—
Money's the cheapest joy I have to lose."

A GRUMPY TRAVELER?

Are you a complaining traveler?

Annoyed by detours, slow drivers, unsatisfactory food and quarters?

Exasperated doubtless when compelled to drive over rough roads and cussing when the engine does not perform perfectly.

Do you grumble as much about the disagreeable features of railroad travel, and fret and stew when a train is late?

If you are a sane and well balanced man otherwise you ought to be ashamed of yourself.

If matters are beyond your control, as in traveling, why not permit yourself to be wrought up and take the pleasure you might have, if you were cooler.

Why take a trip if you are not in a pleasant, receptive mood?

In any situation you are bound to find many things distasteful.

Why expect your trips to be altogether agreeable?

The constant grumbler is very annoying when met in travel.

It denotes lack of poise and self control and is disgusting to sensible people.

Learn to travel cheerfully and you'll be a popular companion, and get much more enjoyment out of your trips.

At the primaries next September, the voters of Lawrence County will select three men to be elected in November to the office of County Commissioner. No more important office exists in the County. There is absolutely no check on what they do. They can spend the tax-payers' money without giving account to anyone. Are you as voters going to permit a self-styled political boss to present a lineup which he expects you to accept without question, or will you investigate each candidate with respect to his qualification and fitness for office? Is it not about time for the voters to wake up and get hep to the situation?

People are pained when you brag about yourself and pleased when you brag about them and theirs. Knowing this, I have a habit of saying complimentary things about the other fellow's possessions—not in empty flattery, but in sincere praise of anything he has that is worth it. It's a harmless habit but sometimes causes confusion. Some time ago I told a fellow townsman how well I liked his home. It was worthy of praise, but it had cost him about a third of the amount I had spent on mine. A few days later he came to me with a proposition. He said he didn't like the idea of raising his kids on his street, but in view of the fact that I liked his house so well and deserved such a place he would swop with me and take 12 thousand to boot. When I recovered from the shock—his place later sold for less than $5000!—I vowed never again to brag on anything that belonged to a good trader.

Most newspaper publishers don't shed any tears when champion prize fight promoters lose a half million or so. For weeks previous to a fight every newspaper office receives bales of propaganda matter boosting the fight. Most of this rot is printed by some papers. When the fight is over the winner romps off with anywhere from a hundred thousand to a million dollars, the defeated one who has had to take the dedication ceremony gets enough to let him live happily ever afterwards if he does not annex too many wives and the referee generally is burdened with lugging about $25,000 off to his private bank, while the newspaper publisher isn't even offered a free ticket to the mess. All newspaper publishers are not as big suckers as they could be.

The true explanation of life's cheapness in America today is the age old truth that men reap what they sow. A few weak-minded people may become killers because they read of many killings, just as the suicide of a simpleton may be prompted by the story of some spectaclar suicide. but we have become a nation tolerant of homicide and addicted to it as a solution of quarrels because agnostics and cynics have taught the people to scorn religion. In all ages and in all lands, religion has been the backbone of morality. Destroy religion and people who lack the breeding to love honor for honor's sake are deprived of every restraining influence except fear. No people will remain decent when it forsakes religion. This truth is known to those who teach the people to mock religion, and thus they take upon themselves the responsibility for the moral degradation of our times. It may be very "high-brow" to ridicule religion but there are nobler sports than that of changing God-fearing people into criminals.

Ousted Woman Judge Called Unrepresentative Of Sex

New York Magistrate Removed By Appellate Division Of Supreme Court Believed To Have Been Influenced By Conditions

National comment on the removal of Magistrate Jean Norris of New York by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of that State reveals general regret that one who was chosen as a representative of her sex for an important office should have failed to maintain the traditions of justice.

"Mrs. Norris is one of the very few of her sex who would create cause for removal" says the SCRANTON TIMES while the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER contends that, "there are scores of women holding important positions in New York and other States who have met responsibility with good sense and have borne with modesty the bewildering light of publicity." The ST. JOSEPH GAZETTE points to the success of another woman, 'rather prominent in the government of New York—Miss Henrietta Addition—who has been appointed a deputy police commissioner," and to the fact that she 'has been at the head of New York's crime prevention bureau."

"There are plenty of women who would bring sympathy, understanding and a discriminating intelligence to bear on the problems presented in a woman's court," in the opinion of the DANBURY EVENING NEWS and the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT offers the comment: "We suspect that she was corrupted by her association with male politicians. Maybe she wasn't. But one thing is certain—to have expected her to deal out justice more carefully to the women who appeared in her court, and then to find that in reality she believed the men and not the women, is exactly what was to have been looked for."

It is pointed out by the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR that two recent removals from the bench in the New York housecleaning including that of Magistrate Norris, "bring the total 'mortality' of the New York courts up to seven since the beginning of 1930," and that paper concludes: "Removals and forced retirements, together with two just effected by the special prosecutor, make a sad record for the Tammany chosen judiciary of New York." The BALTIMORE EVENING SUN holds that "as between women and men politicians, there is nothing to choose." The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD concludes: "Women have pretty largely won their fight to compel the men to grant them equal privileges and acknowleg that they have equal rights. Now women must engage upon the task which nas so bitterly disappointed the men for many generations, and that is the task of making their own sex worthy of the responsibilities and duties that life as well as citizenship involves.

"Woman has taken her place in public life" according to the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE "not because she is superior to man, nor, on the other hand, because man makes a concession to an inferior. Women are 'persons' under much the same influences and motives as other persons. The sooner women and men grasp that fact, the more quickly will women be freed from unjust criticism because of dereliction in office by some person who happens to be a woman." The LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL emphasizes the fact that Magistrate Norris 'turned out to be a hard, cruel woman to girls so unfortunate as to be haled into her court.' The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL declares that "she sems to have been out for a record of convictions, forgetting that courts can survive only as long as they make basic rights of individuals their greatest concern."

"She was plainly intoxicated by her power" says the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE, while the RUTLAND HERALD views her as one who 'thought herself bigger than the office and bigger than the law." The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS concludes that 'in removing her from office, the Appellate Division has assisted materially to redeem the Magistrates Courts."

"The Magistrate Courts" states the NEW YORK SUN, 'are tribunals in which the rights of the citizens deserve particular safeguarding. In them the most helpless and least resourceful are arraigned; their judiciary is bound in conscience to scrupulous protection of those who because of ignorance, inexperience, weakness or folly are open to exploitation by the parasitic vermin found wherever wrongdoers are called to account. Mr. Seabury proved that Mrs. Norris failed in justice and in justice the Appellate Division made its decision to remove her from office."

Unfortunately it has been the experience of the county that women are subject to faults as well as virtues in politics and public office, declares the FLINT JOURNAL. The PHILADLEPHIA EVENING BULLETIN summarizes the situation with the statement: 'Magistrate Norris has been one of the high-ranking leaders of women in her profession of law, in which she undertook a career after she was widowed. She was appointed, first woman on the bench of a New York court, October 27, 1919, by Mayor Hylan. In 1914 she was elected president of the National Woman Lawyer's Association, serving altogether for three years. From 1919 to 1922 she was president of the New York State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. But she is declared unfit for the magistracy because she did not respect and obey the law in her official acts. Her dismissal on these charges is an emphatic reminder that knowledge of the law and respect for it are essential in the primary proceedings of the Magistracy no less than in the higher courts. Honesty and zealous purpose, even, do not justify arbitrary action in disregard of the law."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A POLYGLOT POPULATION.

If the South is shy on paint, New England tries to make up for this remissness. Shining white with green shutters the old homes of the descendants of the Puritans are beautiful among the green trees of these North-eastern states. But the inhabitants of New England are such that I, for one, am keen to see that Congress closes the door forever and a day to all Outlanders, whether they be of allaged "Nordic" extraction or not; whether they may hail from Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, Central America, Australia or the Islands of the Sea until we catch up with them or they with us; until we all speak one language, salute one flag and resemble one another as citizens of a great Republic should.

It is a crime what might be written about "Cape Cod Folk" as they are to-day. They are the Pole, the Italian, the Armenian and the Greek, to say nothing of the Hebrew. It will take several generations, I am afraid, to amalgamate all these into one people.

I looked at Ex-President Coolidge's former home at No. 21 Massasoit street, Northampton, Massachusetts and then I looked at "The Beeches" and there seemed to be a marvelous fittingness to each. The first was the Home of Thrift and the seond the Home of Silence. If "The Beeches" had been built to order by a man of tremendous imagination, it could not have been done better—it fits the man absolutely. Really it is not on any street. The House seems to have grown with the great beautiful trees which surround it. The grass under the trees is so thick and soft that no sound can be heard about the House except the song of the birds. And the family car is a Ford.

This "rock coast" of New England may be "rocky" all right from the viewpoint of the sailor who approaches it but from the highways it seems to be on a par with the rest of the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida, very much of a marsh. When I commented to a native about the smallness of the "Plymouth Rock," and the general condition of the coast, he said: "They have a rocky wall at Cohasset and the coast of Maine when you get to it may be said to be 'rocky' but this 'Plymouth Rock' is the biggest Stone they could find on this coast and it was brought down by a glacier."

Entire Nation Will Unite In Relief Drive

National Community Chest Association Sets Dates For Fund Campaign

WILL RAISE FUND FOR WINTER RELIEF

In a statement received here today by F. A. Hover, Secretary of the New Castle Community Chest, Vance C. McCormick, publisher, of Harrisburg, Pa., pointed out the advantages of the name and dates selected for the nation-wide movement recently initiated by the President's Emergency Committee for Employment in anticipation of welfare and relief needs throughout the United States next fall and winter.

Mr. McCormick is first Vice President of the national Association of Community Chests and Councils, the organization selected by the President's Committee to direct the united effort of 376 cities of 25,000 or more population. He is also chairman of the Administrative Committee in charge of the united effort. In this latter capacity he presided last week at a meeting in New York during which October 19th to November 25th was chosen as the period for the concentration of fund-raising efforts, and in which the entire movement was officially named: "Welfare and Relief Mobilization."

In the statement received here today, Mr. McCormick said:

"In selecting dates for the concerted movement—October 19th to November 25th—we were guided entirely by the fact that this the period which a majority of all Community Chests normally hold their campaigns. Over 72 percent. of the aggregate Chest total last year was raised in late October and November; and over 97 percent of the aggregate total of fall and winter Chest campaigns was raised during this period.

"We are looking forward to a movement unique in the annals of American philanthropy. While it will have the benefit of Governmental sponsorship, and the added stimulus of nation-wide, simultaneous action, it will be based entirely upon the principle of 'local responsibility for local needs.' In other words, it is not to be a national drive, for a nation goal: it is to be a combination of 376 individual funds raised and distributed locally."

Annual Picnic Is Planned By Legion Of Honor

Slippery Rock Park Is Chosen For Outing On Wednesday, July 22

Plans were made for the annual picnic of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory, at a meeting held in the Cathedral last evening.

The event will take place Wednesday, July 22, and will be held at Slippery Rock Park, for all members of the Legion of Honor and their families.

James A. Hewitt has been named general chairman of the picnic committee and is now busy choosing the members of the various sub-committees to assist in making the coming outing one of the biggest and best ever held.

There will be a good program of sports and other entertainment arranged for the day, and particular attention will be paid to the program for the kiddies, many interesting things being planned for their pleasure.

How to End RHEUMATISM

New Medicine Drives Rheumatic Poisons from Joints—Muscles. EASES PAIN FIRST DAY

Poisons settling in the joints and muscles cause rheumatism. You cannot get rid of rheumatic agony till these dangerous poisons are driven out of your system. External remedies and pain deadening drugs only give temporary relief.

What you need is RU-MA, the new medicine now sold by all druggists; that acts directly on the liver, kidneys and blood, and helps expel through the natural channels of elimination the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatism.

No long waiting for your suffering to stop. RU-MA eases pain the first day and is the one rheumatic remedy guaranteed by Eckerd's and New Castle Drug Co. to free muscles and joints from all painful stiffness and swelling and completely end your rheumatism, or nothing to pay.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

What effect have harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos upon the throat? A famous authority, retained by us to study throat irritation, says:

"The tissues above and below the vocal chords and the vocal chords themselves may become acutely or chronically congested as a result of the inhalation of irritating fumes in the case of chemists for example."

LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays, expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. So "Consider your Adam's Apple" — that is your larynx — your voice box — it contains your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. TWO STILLS IN CEMETERY

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The belief that spirits exists in cemeteries frequently is discounted, but prohibition agents conducting an investigation in a cemetery here found there were "spirits." The result—Mrs. Margaret Foelsch, wife of the sexton, was fined $1,000 on her plea of guilty to violating the national prohibition laws. The raid, following purchase of a bottle of alleged whisky, disclosed two stills and a quantity of homebrew, wines and whiskey.

Mrs. Adele Horowitz Of New Castle Is Defendant In Pittsburgh Suit

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Mrs. Adele Horowitz, of New Castle, today was named defendant in a damage suit for $30,000, filed in federal court by William J. Hinckson, and his wife, Mrs. Selma Hinckson, of Youngstown, Ohio, as the result of an automobile collision in which Leola Hinckson, 16, daughter of the plaintiffs, was injured.

In the statement of claim it is averred that Leola was riding in an automobile driven by her brother, Wayne Hinckson, of Nimrod avenue, Youngstown, which was struck by a machine driven by the daughter of the defendant July 8, 1929.

Leola was thrown against the windshield of her brother's car and suffered cuts which resulted in a permanent disfiguration, it was averred.

The plaintiff charges carelessness and negligence on the part of the operator of the automobile owned by the defendant.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

New Castle has been most fortunate in being set down right in the midst of various formations of the earth's soil that have proven to be highly useful in an industrial way and for that reason, have proven of much benefit in causing this city and vicinity to be prosperous. One of the most generous of these formations in the prosperity of the city has been the limestone. It first brought prosperity to New Castle because of its extensive use in the operation of blast furnaces producing the iron which is the backbone of the steel industry on which much of New Castle's material prosperity up to the present time has depended on. In the earlier days there was also small deposits of iron ore found in the hills, which was used in the furnaces. Now the limestone is adding to the wealth of the district by its use in making cement, road building materials of other kinds and fertilizer. The district has also had a considerable deposit of coal which has also aided in building up the district. But getting back to the rare and peculiar formations that are found in the vicinity and are and have been used in adding to the material prosperity of the district are special deposits and sand and sandstone, sometimes designated as firestone. The sand, which is rather peculiar to this immediate district, has been used for years, in furnishing foundries of all parts of the country with a moulding sand. This moulding sand is not found every time that a deposit of sand is located. Almost the only and in all probability the largest known deposits of a sandstone or firestone that will stand an intense heat and are better for use in lining furnaces and other manufacturing units that produce an intense heat than manufactured fire brick, are located in the immediate vicinity of the city and as long as there are furnaces producing iron, etc., this stone will be used and be a means of producing wealth for the community.

Mother's Assistance Board Discusses Plans For Biennium

The Mother's Assistance Fund Board of Lawrence County met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Young, East Wallace avenue with Miss Emma Dodds, New Wilmington, presiding.

Miss Charlotte Parrish of Harrisburg, assistant supervisor of Pennsylvania met with the women and talked over the plans for the disbursement of the state appropriation in Lawrence county, which amounts to $34,720 for the years 1931-33.

This amount is greatly in excess of what the board received the past two years, but the mothers who need assistance have increased also in that time and at present there are 50 families receiving aid through this source.

Discussion was held over the subject of having a paid worker in Lawrence county but the board deferred any action on this owing to the fact that they feel they must conserve on their allotment until they see how conditions in the county stand, as they expect to increase the number of mothers to be aided to nearly 100 in the coming allotment period and the women want to go slow on expenditure.

The meeting closed with a delightful tureen dinner on the lawn of the Young home.

State Building Program Is Less Than Elsewhere

Per Capita Average Is Six Cents Less Than The Nation At Large Last Week

IS INCREASE OVER PRECEDING WEEK

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 9.—Pennsylvania failed by six cents per capita to do her share toward keeping the public and semi-public building program of the country at a high level last week, according to the President's Emergency Committee for Employment.

Contracts totaling $2,545,100 were awarded in the Keystone state last week for public and semi-public building. This was an average of twenty-five cents for every person resident in the state. In the country as a whole such contracts awarded totaled $38,575,078, and showed a per capita average of thirty-one cents. This made the national per person average six cents greater than that shown by Pennsylvania.

This building program proposed for the State last week was nearly twice as great as the one proposed during the previous week when such contracts amounted to only $1,762,100.

T total of 241 projects will be covered by the national building program proposed last week, twenty-two of that amount being proposed in Pennsylvania.

The holiday week end made a busy three days along the Perry Highway. A thousand cars an hour was the estimate for much of the time on Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday and far more cars than ordinary for the three nights.

Many of the homes of the neighborhood entertained guests over the week end.

Mrs. Hunt ,who is a sister of Mrs. Patterson, is in her ninety-first year and is still active and has a keen interest in life. Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Patterson are the only surviving members of a family of twelve children.

Mr. and Mrs. John Orr and Walter Armstrong and family picnicked with Mr. and Mrs. Amos Weaver at the Weaver home on the Fourth.

Mrs. L. M. Locke of New Castle spent several days with her cousin Mrs. Amos Weaver, returning to her home on Monday evening with Mr. Locke and grandson Junior who were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver that day. The Mercer boys, Harry and Earl Miller, Frank Filer, Ross Neurah and Wallace Anderson who have camped on the Neshannock at the Hartt farm for the past two weeks broke camp on Tuesday. The pasture grounds and "old swimmin' hole" on the farm divided interest with the more improved places of the kind on the Fourth, two or three hundred cars having visited the place during the afternoon and evening.

Davis Endorses Hoover Program

Senator Gives Unqualified Endorsement To Debt Moratorium

EXPRESSES FAITH IN PENNSYLVANIA

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Senator James J. Davis today went on record in unqualified endorsement of President Hoover's debt moratorium denied, he would change his Pittsburgh residence to Chester county and reiterated his belief in Pennsylvania citizens as "law-abiding god-fearing people".

Mrs. Davis has leased a country home for the summer near Philadelphia.

Regarding the moratorium, Senator Davis said:

"We see right now, for the first time since the close of the World War, the spirit of the Golden Rule and the sermon on the mount, submerging the cold, calculating spirit of Versailles." The moratorium, he pointed out, would not only bring about stabilization of the world's economic affairs, but would be helpful in bringing about world peace.

He expressed his faith in Pennsylvanians as follows:

"We are law-abiding, god-fearing people. We believe in property rights. We have read in the newspapers recently of thousands of men, women and children marching over the hills in these western counties of Pennsylvania, with property rights all about them, banks filled with money, stores filled with clothing and markets filled with food, and yet not one of them thinking in terms of taking anything not belonging to them, even though many were hungry and many needed clothing."

Wolgast Faces Serious Charges

Atlantic City Girl Claims She Was Attacked By Flyweight Champion

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Midget Wolgast, recognized as flyweight boxing champion of the world by the Pennsylvania and New York State Athletic Commission, today faced further complications in his battle against the charges of a 19-year-old Atlantic City girl. He must now defend a $50,000 damage suit directed against him by Carmen Manara, father of Rose Manara, the girl whom Wolgast and two companions are alleged to have attacked.

Wolgast at present is at liberty on $1,500 bail while his two companions, James "The Flash" Farina and Louis Pirolli, are being held in default of bail. They were arrested, according to police, on information that there was a girl in their quarters here.

A Capias for Wolgast was issued by Judge Otto Heligman, requiring him to post $2,000 to insure defense of the suit.

First Chapel At Camp Rentz

President R. J. Tully Of Y. M. C. A. Board Makes Visit To Boys' Camp

The second and third days of camp for the 70 boys who enrolled at the Fred L. Rentz Y. M. C. A. Camp on the Slippery Rock creek found them full of vim, vigor and vitality that is synonimous with camp life.

After a round of setting up exercises on the second day and a warming breakfast, the first chapel exercises were held during which time Camp Director Thomas gave an inspiring talk on the subject of "The New Camper."

R. J. Tully, president of the New Castle Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors, visited the camp and saw the boys during their recreation period.

Several of the old camp hymns were renewed with spirit and fervor as in years gone by.

Teams were chosen for mushball, volley ball and baseball, with the following teams being named:

Albatrass, captained by Jimmy Fox: Robbins, with Joe Fisher captain: Cardinals, Huston, captain: Vampires, Dave Gatrall, captain: Black Hawks, Ed Fritz, captain: Orioles, Ross Bridenbaugh, captain.

In the morning games the Cardinals trimmed the Black Hawks to the tune of 8-3.

In mushball and baseball the Vampires held the Orioles 13-11 In a fast game.

The Albatross were the unfortunate losers in both the mushball and volleyball games, losing 28-4 in a hit and run game, and 2-1 in a volley ball game.

Early in the afternoon the tent inspection period was held and the award for best tent was won by Tent 3 and Tent 5 who tied with a percentage of 95.

After dinner three games of Capture the Flag were played. All in camp took part.

The evening was spent in games featuring pillow fighting, prisoner's base and others.

No camp fire was held due to the energy lost in playing Capture the Flag and everyone 'hit the hay early."

Eagerly Await Report On Flight

Wife And Parents Of Robbins Listen With Anxiety For Reports Of Hop

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 9—Three persons in this city eagerly perused telegrams and newspapers and listened for radio reports on the flight of the "Fort Worth" from Seattle to Tokio. The three were Mrs. Gladys Robbins, wife of the pilot, Reg L Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Robbins, his parents.

The flyer's mother, on a farm at Everman, near here, feared bad weather or engine trouble. Nothing else, she knew, would stop her boy. Mr. Robins went calmly about the daily farm chores, as confident of the ultimate success of the long flight, as the flyer's wife who said she was certain it would succeed.

Wants Wide Use Of State Forests

HARRISBURG, July 9.—Pointing out that the million and a half acres of state forests are visited annually by a million and a half persons, Secretary Lewis E. Staley of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters stressed the growing popularity of these forests as public play grounds, in a statement issued today.

"Tourists, hunters, fishermen, nature lovers, in short, all who enjoy the forests, and that includes most of us, are turning toward the open spaces in increasing numbers," Staley said.

Recreational use of the state forests is 20 times as great as it was ten years ago and has doubled in the last six years. This trend has coincided with the development of public camps, parks and other recreational facilities in the same period, it was pointed out.

The state forests of Pennsylvania belong to the people of Pennsylvania. If you are a citizen of Pennsylvania you can feel just pride that you are one of ten million stockholders in these forests, Staley asserted. One and one-half million acres in state ownership means that there is on the average one-half acre for each family of Pennsylvanians. The administration of the state forests is entrusted to thet Department of Forests and Waters, and friendly cooperation is invited from all and extended to all in this administration.

Among those enjoying the state forests last year were 300,000 park visitors and 250,000 who used the 48 tourist camps, besides 47,000 temporary campers and several hundred thousand transients. The state forests are popular with 200,000 hunters and 100,000 fishermen used them last year. Many years of record show that approximately half the deer, one-third the bear and large quantities of small game are killed annually in the state forests, which comprise one-tenth of the forests of the state.

Keeping the welfare of the people, as well as the forests, in mind, conservation's rule of the greatest good for the greatest number and the longest time is a good one to follow, said Secretary Staley. With his end in view, the state forests are managed to produce and develop thrifty woodlands and bring the benefits of good forestry to everyone. This includes the protection of watersheds, safeguarding water supplies, promoting health, providing outdoor recreation and conserving the natural beauty of the commonwealth's forests.

Long Island Matron Reduces From 190 to 126 Pounds

"Never Felt Better In My Life," She Writes, "My Friend Say It's Marvelous". Looks Years Younger

Kruschen Salts, a combination of SIX separate minerals which glands, nerves and body organs ought to have to function properly, actually feeds your starved system those elements the lack of which usually causes the accumulation of excess fat.

Just go to Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., New Castle Drug Co., McKee's Kut Rate Store, or any leading drugstore and get Kruschen (an 85c bottle lasts 4 weeks)—take a half teaspoonful every morning before breakfast—you can hasten the reducing action by going lighter on potatoes, pastries and fatty meats.

Almost from the start you feel a marked improvement in health—much more energy and strength—more activity—the trim, dashing swing of youth will be yours. Complexion clears—eyes grow bright—and joy of joys—

Embarrassing fat starts to rapidly vanish—week by week your scales show a gratifying loss until you achieve the normal and healthy figure Nature intended each and every woman to have!

Mrs. H. Price of Woodside, L. I., writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 years old than the mother of 2 children, one 19 and the other 18. Every one of my friends say it's marvelous the way I reduced."

Use Kruschen not only because it's more economical but because it's safe—more efficient and more healthful than other methods because it keeps the body free from poisons and acids at all times and is guaranteed.

Drought Aided Hay Fever Victims

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Although farmers wept last summer because of the drought, hay fever sufferers found the weather almost ideal, according to Dr. W. W. Duke of Kansas City, speaker at a recent meeting of the St. Louis Medical Society.

Because of the lack of rain, there was a dearth of the weeds and plants that usually bring suffering to those afflicted with hay fever, he said.

"The prevalence of allergy (including such ailments as asthma and hay fever) is almost beyond belief," he explains. "While the disease has been known since ancient times it is only within the last two decades that its causes have been understood.

"Pollen is responsible for most allergic troubles. We have produced graphs which show that hay fever varies directly with the amount of foliage.

Stole Heart as Well as Bases

William B. "Ben" Chapman, left fielder for the New York Yankees, would have the world know that while he leads both major circuits at stealing bases, that's not the only thing he can steal. And here's proof of the point. "Ben" is shown proudly escorting the former Mary Elizabeth Payne from the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, just after the ceremony uniting them in marriage. He's evidently as good at stealing a heart as he is at stealing bases. Mrs. Chapman hails from Birmingham, Ala., the bridegroom from Nashville.

Dam Is Built Near Creek To End Pollution

Sand Washer Employed To Furnish Material For New Highway

Frank L. Coen, district game warden, today announced that a contracting company for the new concrete road between New Wilmington and Mercer has erected an improvised dam following reports of fishermen and local residents that the water of the Neshannock had been polluted by sand loam and was endangering fish in the creek.

The dam has just been constructed about 100 yards from the main creek to hold the water and permit the sediment to settle down. The dam is about 15 feet in length.

Early this week fishermen had been aroused by the pollution of sand. At the present, according to Coen, who has visited the sand washer, there is no recurrence of the drifting of sand into the main stream.

TWO-DAY FISHING TRIP BRINGS REAL LOSS FOR LOCALS

Lady Luck helps out many a fellow in a pinch, but oftentimes shuffles the cards a moment after to wreak ill will upon those she favored.

And on a recent two-day fishing jaunt to Edinboro lake, at Edinboro, Pa., three New Castle wild life enthusiasts learned this at a price. During their brief stay, Ray F. Hall, Hans N. Drio and Dr. Jay L. Reed forfeited to the lake bottom and to unsportsmanlike sportsmen fishing equipment and fish worth $50.

The trio had hooked a 30-pound "muskie" and cleaned it, but some shrewd fisherman swapped it for another.

An expensive fishing pole, line and reel toppled overboard from their boat on one of their final trawlings. All efforts to reclaim them from the lake bed failed.

Volant Bank Pays Reward To Youth

Directors Send $100 To One Who Aided In Capture Of Bank Robbers

The First National bank of Volant, victimized by bank robbers who stole $2,500 in a daring daylight bank robbery last August, today forwarded $100 to a Detroit, Mich., youth who furnished information which ultimately resulted in the arrest and conviction of two for the holdup.

P. M. Cox, treasurer of the bank, said today that the amount stolen has been covered by insurance, thus making it necessary for the board of directors of the bank to offer any reward for the apprehension of Harold Holt and Kenneth Palmer, two of the trio of robbers who are now serving terms for the robbery.

According to County Detective Lee it was the youth, whose name is withheld, who wrote to Lawrence county and Allegheny authorities after he had overheard a conversation in Detroit about a robbery in western Pennsylvania.

He was not certain whether the robbery about which he had heard was the one of the Manchester bank in Pittsburgh or the First National in Volant.

His information resulted in the arrest of Holt in Detroit and the arrest of Palmer in this vicinity.

Plant Late Vegetables For Winter Storage Soon

PLANT LATE VEGETABLES

Timely reminders from the Pennsylvania State College school of agriculture, advises planting of vegetables for winter storage in the near future, along with other timely reminders as follows:

Plant Late Vegetables—Rutabagas, turnips, beets, carrots and winter radishes may be planted for winter storage on ground where early vegetables have been harvested. Several small plantings of lettuce, spinach, and kohl rabi may be sown until September. Endive and Chinese cabbage should be planted by the middle of July.

Control Potato Aphids—Where the infestation of potato aphids is not heavy, use one pint of 40 per cent nicotine in 100 gallons of bordeaux mixture. For heavy infestations, increase the nicotine to one and one-half pints. Spray thoroughly so that the undersides of leaves and terminals will get a complete drenching.

Feed Cows Well—Summer feeding helps to make winter milk. Cows which are to freshen in the fall should be well fed during late summer in order to reduce milk production costs during the winter months.

Pick Blossoms Daily—Sweet peas should be picked daily to prevent them from going to seed. Apply a heavy mulch of grass clippings to conserve moisture. Water thoroughly and often in dry weather.

High Quality Pays—Quality products pay dividends high enough above the market price for ordinary produce to make it profitable and economical to produce them. They also make satisfied customers and get repeat orders.

Save Grain-fed Pigs — Pastures save grain in the production of pork. Experiments and demonstrations have shown that good pastures will save one-half pound of grain for each pound of pork produced.

President Judge Selected By Lot

SUNBURY, Pa., July 9,—Designation of the president judge of the Northumberland county courts will be determined by drawing of lots in accordance with the provisions of the state constitution.

The constitution provides that when judges are elected at the same time they shall "cast lots for priority of commission and certify the result to the governor."

Two judges will be elected here. Their salaries and terms of office will be the same but one will be the designated president judge and the other associate in accordance with the decision of the drawing.

The practice is long established but virtually unknown to most of the electorate who have held the opinion that the judicial candidate receiving the highest number of votes automatically becomes president judge.

The Parent Problem
by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Value Of Reading Aloud Is Emphasized

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Repeatedly in these columns I have emphasized the value of reading to young children long before the school age. Many parents have written me for guidance in selecting the proper books for the early age, also for the different periods of school age.

Every child expert naturally thinks he has some superior wisdom in relation to such matters. Maybe he has, maybe he has not. Anyway, for the present, I am going to urge my readers to seek the guidance of the American Library association. Your local librarian nearly always is so guided. She will be glad to give you freely of the pamphlets and folders she has on hand. You can write directly to the American Library association, 520 North Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill. State what you are interested in and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Many of their pamphlets are free. For others they charge a small sum. Since they do not operate for profit, any charge is merely to pay in part for the cost of printing and mailing.

Among their free folders are: "A Boy's Book List," "A Girl's Book List," "Gifts for Children's Bookshelves. The latter gives a graded list: under eight, from eight to twelve, older boys and girls. The name of the book, its publisher and cost are given.

The list was prepared at the request of the library commission of the Boy Scouts of America by the following committee representing the children's librarians section of the American Library association: Elva S. Smith, Carnegie library of Pittsburgh, chairman; Grace L. Aldrich, Public library, Madison, Wis.; E. Gertrude Avey, Public library, Cincinnati; Nina C. Brotherton, Carnegie Library school, Pittsburgh; Clara W. Hunt, Public library, Brooklyn; Elizabeth Knapp, Public library, Detroit; Avis F. Meigs, school librarian, Long Beach, Cal.; Effie L. Power, Public library, Cleveland; Mrs. Caroline Burnite Walker, Syracuse, N. Y., and by E. K. Mathiews, representing the Boy Scouts.

"Medical and Health Publications for the Layman" is a free pamphlet issued by the American Medical association, 535 North Dearborn street, Chicago.

When you receive these guides go to your public library and borrow those you are interested in. If the library does not have the ones you want, you and some of your friends, working together, may be able to prevail upon the library to make them available. Public libraries, like other service institutions, are often short of funds, but when many parents borrow the books that are made free and express strong enough demand for more, they almost always get them.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Garry C. Myers, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Punishments and Rewards" and "Fear."

...switch to Camels

GIVE Camels the hardest test you can think of—take them along on your vacation—into the desert, on the boat, in the woods, to the beach.

Then you'll see why the switch to Camels in the new Humidor Pack is nation-wide.

This scientific wrapping of germ-safe moisture-proof Cellophane seals in all the natural factory-fresh aroma—seals it in so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

It insures every Camel smoker at work or at play the joy of expertly blended fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos kept always in prime smoking condition, throat-friendly, mellow and cool.

A special vacuum-cleaning process frees Camel cigarettes from the sting of peppery dust; the Humidor Pack guards them against being dried-out or soggy whether in sunshine or rain.

Ensign Thomsen Explains How All Officers Are Paid

There Are No High Salaried Persons In The Salvation Army

"It has often been asked of me" said Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge of the Salvation Army in this city, to a representative of The News, "how our salaries are paid?" There seems to be a general impression that all money collected, whether from the Community Chest Funds or otherwise, are being sent to the headquarters and from there appropriated to the various corps. Such is not the case. The budget made up each year is confirmed by the Finance Board at the district headquarters and then sent to the local officer, who presents it to the Community Chest.

"There are no high salaried persons in the Salvation Army. A Scale of Allowance is located in each corps' minutes so that each ranking officer knows just what his allowance will be. The Salvation Army auditors check the salary taken every six months and receive a report every week on which is shown how much salary has been received by the officer or officers, where there are more than two married couples do not, however, receive double salary.

"Wherever there is a treasurer within the Salvation Army Corps, this person pays the salary to the officer and vouchers are placed in the voucherbook for the same. It is furthermore the ruling of the organization that before the officer receives his or her allowance, that it should be seen that the local expenditures are paid before the allowance is taken.

"A mistaken idea often is that every uniformed member is a salaried person. This is due to the fact that sometimes it is necessary to employ other members to help with the work for which they receive a small amount of pay. No bonus is paid or percentage by order of the regulations. So that the public is guaranteed that the highest value of their contributions goes for the purpose for which it is given. It will be seen, therefore, that the more money contributed to the work of the Salvation Army, the greater will be the benefit to the under privileged."

FELL ON SHEARS DIES FROM INJURY

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 9.—Carl Schartz, 65, died of injuries received when he fell on a pair of shears and cut the back of his neck today. Schartz was working from a small step ladder, the ladder gave way and he fell to the ground, cutting himself as he landed. He walked to a house 50 feet away and then collapsed.

MAN IN HOSPITAL, NEIGHBOR JAILED, IN CHERRY TREE WAR

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 9.—Dispute over the ownership of cherries, hanging heavily on the branches of a tree between two properties in Hope Hollow, near Pt. Marion, sent one man to the Uniontown hospital and the other to the Fayette county jail.

The cherry tree grew just inside the fence on the property of George Lansick, but many of the branches bearing luscious cherries hung over the property of John Trackewan. Since the cherries began to form the two families have argued over their ownership. It is claimed that Lansick shook his neighbor out of the tree so violently as to break his leg. Trackewan was taken to a hospital and Lansick to the county jail.

OBJECT TO REDUCTION

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY—The National Railways of Mexico have petitioned the Board of Conciliation and Arbitration for permission to reduce the office force by 50 per cent. As approval of the request would mean the dismissal of hundreds of employes, the Railwaymen's Alliance has requested that the railways justify their demands.

There's one consolation about every fool style. It will peter out when it becomes too popular with the wrong people.

Speaks Sunday At Dedication Of New Church

Rev. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, Head Of Foreign Missions, At Epworth M. E.

WILL BRING MESSAGE AT MORNING SERVICE

R. E. DIFFENDORFER

The Rev. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, D. D. of New York City, corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church will be the principal preacher at the Dedication Services of Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church, New Castle, Pennsylvania, on Sunday morning, July 12, at 10:30. Dr. S. L. Maxwell is the pastor.

Dr. Diffendorfer has just returned from a visit to the mission fields of Asia during which he saw the work of the Methodist Episcopal church and of other Christian churches in India, China, Japan, Korea, Sumatra and Hawaii. In India he was the missionary consultant to the Laymen's Inquiry which is making an intensive study of the methods and work of Christian missions overseas. In India and in China he had also opportunity of meeting many of the important nationals who are in places of responsibility in these countries.

Few men in Methodism have had opportunity to study the mission field as has Dr. Diffendorfer. He was a member of the International Missionary Conference that met in Jerusalem, March and April of 1928. He arrived in China shortly after the disturbance of March 1927, and took part in the church councils of the weeks that followed the Nanking disaster.

Dr. Diffendorfer was born in Hayesville, O., and graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University, Drew Theological Seminary and Union Theological Seminary. He was an assistant secretary of the Epworth League from 1902-1904 and since that time has served as secretary of the Missionary Educational Movement in the United States and Canada, educational secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension and in similar capacity with the Board of Foreign Missions. He was one of the secretaries of the Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church and later the Director of the Home Mission Survey of the Interchurch world movement. From 1902-1924 Dr. Diffendorfer was the educational secretary of the Committee on Conservation and Advance of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with headquarters in Chicago. In 1924 he was elected a Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions.

Dr. Diffendorfer is the author of a number of volumes of study on home and foreign missions: his most recent volume is "The World Service of the Methodist Episcopal Church" which has been studied in thousands of churches across the continent.

THE NEWS, ONE YEAR, BY MAIL, $5.00

MY NEW YORK

By JAMES ASWELL (Central Press)

NEW YORK, July 9.—You are sated with stories of the Arabian Nights earning power of orchestra leaders who broadcast over nation-wide hook-ups. I know two luminous wielders of baton and crooning megaphone who lose money every week when they appear before the mike, but they continue to do so "for the advertising".

And no high-priced jazz impresario will refuse a moderate offer from a recognizedly ritzy hotel to play dance music. Again—publicity. The new Waldorf Astoria is still looking around for an orchestra. Why should they hire a high-power name when they can take any competent group of musicians and put them over in a big way merely by billing "The Waldorf-Astoria Orchestra"?

Rudy Vallee, incidentally, is taking a cut in earnings to appear with the forthcoming "Scandals". It's the ballyhoo value, once more.

SMALL-TOWNERS

Your true Manhattanite retains a persistent longing for the atmosphere of the flag-stop towns. In a forest of girders he yearns constantly for the Simple Life. Of course, he wants sunken tubs and restaurant service as perquisites to happiness; so he has a cow hoisted to his pent-house pasturage, where real sod flourishes. Or he builds a chicken-coop among the geranium pots of his twentieth-floor terrace.

But I am thinking of a gentleman who, although not, properly speaking, a resident of New York, yet lived in Brooklyn, which is close enough to point the story. I have in mind one Folger—the same Standard Oil millionaire who left to the Congressional Library the world's most valuable collection of original Shakespeare manuscripts and first editions.

Mr. Folger, who, if he were alive, could see the mooring-mast of the Empire State Building from his front yard in Brooklyn, brought country ways to the city with a picturesque vengeance. He inhabited, with Mrs. Folger, a ramshackle house in a ramshackle neighborhood. She sympathized thoroughly with his attitude, so they did not bother to have the place painted each year, or have the lawn manicured—when they might have bought out a block of Fifth Avenue town houses and not missed the money.

They existed in colorfully sylvan fashion. On winter evenings the noted bibliophile would creep down the front steps with a pan of water suspended before him, sniffing the air and hoping for a freeze.

In that case they could spin the sign for the iceman around to "0"—and save fifteen or twenty cents.

There was no electricity in the Folger home and no telephone. There were no children, either. Mr. Folger spoke of his $4,000,000 collection of books, which were shelved in vaults of the National City Bank, as "the boys".

But Folger, as all who knew him will testify, was no miser. He was simply a perpetual villager. No doubt he and Coolidge had pretty much the same viewpoint on things.

ON THE OTHER HAND

Just for contrast, there is the home of H. H. Rogers, another Standard Oil Croesus, at Southampton, Long Island. The estate is dubbed, rather equivocally, "The Port of Missing Men". One room, which juts toward the sea, is fitted with all the paraphernalia of a ship's bridge. A concealed engine, especially built, reproduces the sound of a great liner under way.

WITH A FAST CAMERA

Young adventurers and poetasters who lecture to women's clubs get twice as much per lecture and twice as many lectures if they are unmarried . . . Fred Stone, with his wife and daughters, Paula and Dorothy, buying tickets at the box office of the New Amsterdam Theater like anybody else to see "The Band Wagon" . . . And Fred, lounging against billboard outside at intermission, thoughtfully watching two little street urchins execute a pseudo-clog for pennies.

The Aquarium, deserted on a hot afternoon . . . And the rapt crowd with noses pressed against the window of a sea-food restaurant two blocks away; the attraction—a rather anaemic pike slithering in a small glass tank . . . Ed Anthony's story about how he got a bit of color for his collaboration with Frank Buck on "Bring 'Em Back Alive" . . . He wanted to see a live cobra strike and Dr. Raymond Ditmars, of the Bronx Zoo, supervised the performance . . . Ditmars opened up the cobra cage and Buck poked one of the ugly, puff-headed reptiles under the chin . . . The snake reared up and struck, missing Ditmars and Buck by six inches . . . To Anthony, who had hopped to a safe distance, Buck explained that any expert knows to the inch how far one of the things can reach, the way it draws itself up . . . All of which proves that the life of New York litterati often is not as cloistered as might be supposed.

Paper Mill Fire Is Ended Quickly

Fire, which started at the bottom of a siding near some old machinery in the old abandoned paper mill building on the Paper Mill road yesterday afternoon from a spark of a locomotive was quickly extinguished by people of the district who dashed buckets of water against the flames before the arrival of firemen.

Slight damage is reported by the fire department.

State Shows Better Record Than Nation During Depression

By Arthur C. Wimer
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9—Pennsylvania has felt the financial results of the present depression to a smaller degree than the country as a whole, it would appear from figures made public by the Internal Revenue Bureau today which reveal that internal revenue payments by the country as a unit dropped off more than 20 per cent in the 1931 fiscal year, ended June 30, last, whereas such payments by the Keystone State declined only thirteen per cent.

Payments of internal revenue into vaults by the State in the fiscal period of 1931 just ended totaled $190,264,953. This was a decrease of $39,938,210 or slightly more than 13 per cent below such payments made by the State in the fiscal year of 1930. Internal revenue collected in the country as a while, on the other hand, fell off a bit more than twenty per cent.

The decline of thirteen per cent in internal revenue collected in Pennsylvania during the 1931 fiscal period as compared rather sharply with the fact that such payments in 1930 had been only about two per cent lower than those of the fiscal year of 1929.

Income tax collections suffered the most severe drop of all classes of internal revenue collections in Pennsylvania, falling from $213,043,915 in 1930 to $174,245,690 in 1931. Individual income taxes fell from $97,235,312 to $76,001,475 and corporation income tax dropped from $115,808,683 to $98,244,215. This slump in income taxes reveals probably more vividly than any other factor the inroads the current depression has made into the earning capacity of the State.

The remaining, or miscellaneous, internal revnue collections in the Keystone State fell from $17,159,148 in 1930 to $16,019,163 for the fiscal year ended last June .

Income tax collections in the State in 1930 had been two per cent higher than those of 1929 whereas such collections in 1931 slipped substantially below those of 1930.

Thomas Will Take Stand On Monday

Mahoning County Trial Is In Adjournment Until Next Week

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 9.—The sensational blackmail trial of Ray Thomas, the Mahoning county prosecutor, today was in adjournment until noon Monday when the defendant is scheduled to take the stand in his own defense and battle the charges arising from his letter to city council in which he charged Harry Engle, the deposed traction commissioner, with attempted blackmail.

C. S. McCalla, vice president of the Ohio-Edison company, who testified yesterday afternoon, told the court that Engle had fought attempts to ban jitney busses from Youngstown streets in 1924 when his demands for certain concessions had been refused. He claimed that the traction commissioner demanded concessions at Idora park and asked that he be named receiver for the Youngstown municipal railway with authorities to purchase bus certificates.

R. N. Graham, railway manager for the municipal railway company, another defense witness, testified that some of the plans advocated by Engle in his capacity as traction commissioner were harmful both to the company and car riders. He claimed revenue of the company declined following institution of Engle's schedule of railway rates.

Judge J. H. Jewell, hearing the blackmail charges, announced he would hand down no opinion in the case until the conclusion of hearings on ouster petitions signed for Thomas' removal. The hearings will be held immediately after the blackmail trial ends.

Nearly 25,000 Pies Baked In 187 Days

If there is a banner anywhere for champion pie bakers and if it hears of Mrs. Cecil Carnes of 1504 Grimes street it will skip right over there on it's own momentum and camp permanently at that address.

For here is Mrs. Carnes record:

Commencing November 2, 1930 continuing on till June 30, 1931, she baked some 24,319 pies.

On that first day, 54 pies were baked. During the period mentioned, no baking was done on 13 baking days.

During the total number of 187 working days, Mrs. Carnes produced from her ordinary kitchen oven at her home, an average of 130 pies a day. (And if you don't admit that is an ayerage what am an average, just try it out for yourself.)

On the day before last Christmas, Mrs. Carnes baked 200 pies in six hours time.

$70,000,000 Town Sold For $250,000

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 9.—The war time town of Nitro, W. Va. built by the government for approximately $70,000,000, was sold at public auction Wednesday to the Nitro Industrial Corp., for $250,000.

Thirty factory buildings, erected for the manufacture of explosives, their equipment, nearly 1,000 acres of land and 432 residences were sold.

The property was owned by the Charleston Industrial Corp., which purchased the war time city from the government in 1921 for $8,000,000. A foreclosure action resulted in Federal Judge George W. McClintic ordering the holdings sold to satisfy a governmental lien of $950,448.

The Nitro Industrial Corp. was formed by a group of Charleston lawyers and engineers. They said they intended to put the property up for re-sale.

Qualifications For Being Good Court Reporter

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Qualifications necessary to a good court reporter, as outlined at the Pennsylvania Shorthand Reporters' Association in convention here today, are:

Good health, steady nerves, a capacity for hard work, an inclination to study, a natural ability and an agility and coordination of mind and fingers.

Mrs. Estelle Martin, court reporter here for 27 years, listed the qualifications to which Miss Grace Drayer, of York, Pa., who reported the sensational witchcraft trials several years ago added a sense of humor and infinite patience.

Judge Ambrose B. Reid of Common Pleas Court told the delegates that shorthand is as old as the Greek. Ancient stenographers, he said made their impressions on waved tablets with astylus.

"Origen, who died in 253, wrote his sermons in shorthand," the jurist said. "St. Paul had stenographers who used thousands of arbitrary signs. St. Augustine and St. Jerome each had ten stenographers."

Special Machinery Helps Speed Handling Of Auto Applications

HARRISBURG, July 9. — The graphotype section of the bureau of motor vehicles, Department of Revenue, was described by officials today as the hub around which the whole system of automobile certificates of title, registration plates and operators' licenses revolves. To addressograph and mail approximately 4,100,000 renewal applications each fall is a job that only the most modern business methods can handle. Time is an important factor in doing it, it was pointed out.

It is said no other state has as large a mailing list or number of addressograph plates on file. It is one of the little known jobs involvong the motoring public of the Commonwealth.

Twenty-seven electric keyboard graphotype machines are in operation. They are used to emboss needed information taken from various applications on to zinc addressograph plates. For instance, on an application for a certificate of title, this information consists of the engine and manufacturer's number; the horsepower or chassis weight; make of vehicle and type of body; fee and title number; individual's full name and address, and a record number for accounting purposes.

Not Seasonal Work

From these plates, which are subsequently filed in numerical order according to title numbers, the section addressopraphs the renewal applications mailed to owners of automobiles about October 15 each year. Fifteen electric addressograph machines and 11 hand-operated machines are required to do the actual addressing.

The 1931 renewal work started on the night of September 8, 1930. The addressing of registration and operators' renewal forms was completed by November 6, or a total of 46 working days. By apportioning the labor cost it is found that with the use of automatic machinery the section addressed renewal applications at the rate of $1.12 per thousand. It has been estimated that if this work was done on hand machines it would require 147 working days and would cost about $2.82 per thousand.

The section is in operation from 7:30 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. with graphotype operators working from 7:30 to 3:30; correction and file clerks, proof readers and another shift of addressograph operators from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.; messenger and window clerks from 8:30 to 4:30, and a few general clerks from 9 to 5. The night shift on duty from 4 p. m. to 11:30 p. m., clears all changes of address on applications and corrections and all correspondence relating to requests for applications or duplicates. All plates are returned to the proper file by noon of the following day.

Not all the work of the section is confined to addressing. There are other types of machinery, some of which are almost uncanny in their operation. With the receipt of between 3000 and 4000 accident reports monthly and the necessity for developing statistics from them, it is apparent that analysis of these reports by clerks, no matter how speedy they were, would take a long time. Machinery solves the problem.

Use Code Numbers

When the reports are received the various items listed on them are given code numbers. These code numbers are punched out on tabulating cards. The cards can then be run through an electric sorting machine. If any particular information is wanted for any section of the State or for any type of accident, a block of cards is put in the machine, the sorting fingers set for the code number having to do with the cards desired. The result is that the machines throw out only the cards wanted.

The cards are then placed on another electric machine which counts them and prints certain information on a record sheet. The section is able by this means to show the various types of accidents in 87 cities and boroughs having a population of 10,000 or more in any one of the 67 counties, or even in the rural districts of those counties.

Another interesting use to which this particular equipment is put is in clearing the addressograph plate files of inactive title records. For instance, during 1930 every car registered which bore a title number lower than 1,500,000 was key-punched on a tabulating card. These cards were run through the sorting machine which has a capacity of 400 cards per minute. This was done so that they could be placed in consecutive number according to title number.

75 Per Minute

After sorting the cards, they were put through the counting and printing machine so that the title number could be printed on a running tape. This machine has a capacity of 75 per minute. Any title number not shown on the tape was taken from the active file and placed in an inactive file and represents cars not registered for the current year. In this way the section cleared the file of 145,000 inactive addressograph plates, which meant that that number of cars were registered in 1929 but not in 1930. A saving was thus effected because no renewal applications were sent out for those cars.

This use of machinery speeds up the section's production power to a high degree. During 1930, the combined production of both the day and night shifts resulted in a grand total of 7,670,600 forms.

An electric sealing machine places the seal of the Commonwealth on certificates of title, liquid fuel permits and other documents. The sealing of titles alone total over 1,000,000 impressions annually. One of the most recent installations is an automatic numbering machine used for the stamping of numbers on operators' license cards.

The section is in charge of E. J. Gardner.

Reeves Will Recommend New Fire Truck Soon

"Yes I am going to recommend the purchase of a fire engine but I don't know exactly when."

The foregoing was the reply of Councilman Clayton Reeves, superintendent of the fire department when asked today:

"Are you going to recommend the purchase of a new fire engine."

Reeves later amplified his remarks by stating that he does not believe in spending $6,000 for a new engine when the city is short on tax collections.

When the budget was compiled last Decembmer, $6,000 was appropriated by city council and Reeves as head of the fire department has with other councilmen inspected various types. They are awaiting for his recommendation, it is reported.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. ©1931, Carter Medicine Company.

Dailey Hopes To Have New Castle Represented In League

If efforts to back a team are successful New Castle will be represented in the Mid-Atlantic league and night baseball will be played at Centennial field it was reported today.

Negotiations to have New Castle take Jeannette's place on the roster have been under way for more than a week and last night I. A. A. board of directors agreed to lease Centennial field if arrangements for a team were completed.

According to reports the Jeannette team will be moved to New Castle and if new strength is needed several players owned by the Pittsburgh Pirates will be in the New Castle lineup.

Further efforts will be made today when President Elmer Dailey arrives in the city.

Homestead Grays To Meet Scarazzos On Wednesday, July 29, At Centennial Field

For the first time in several years the Homestead Grays, one of the most famous colored baseball organizations in the country will make its appearance here against the Scarazzo nine of the Lawrence County league on Wednesday, July 29, Al Scarazzo stated this morning.

As usual the Grays have their array of stars who always give the fans a treat. In past years the Grays were an annual attraction here against the old Italian A. A. team and later the New Castle O. and P. league team. But since O. and P. league team was disbanded the Grays have not appeared here.

On Friday night the Scarazzos will play their second game of a series with the Ellwood City nine. The Scarazzos won the opening game of the series and hope to make it two straight over the Tubers.

Neither Fighter To Be American In Next Title Setto

Carnera-Schmeling Title Go Marks First Time Two Foreigners Meet In Many Years

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 9.—For the first time since the Pre-Sullivan era, neither principal will be an American when the next heavyweight championship bout is fought in September.

By Choosing Primo Carnera yesterday as Max Schmeling's next opponent, Joe Jacobs, the German's manager, merely carried out his original program, agreed upon when Schmeling and Stribling signed last January, to sidetrack Jack Sharkey, the American champion, until next summer.

Jacobs figures that Schmeling is coming and Sharkey is going, and that the Black Uhlan will have a better chance of beating the Bostonian next summer than this fall. By the same token, Carnera is improving steadily, and will not be as tough in September as he might be next year with a few more hard fights under his belt.

Realizing that Der Moxie is a stretch runner of the ring, a man who fights his best after the tenth round, Jacobs insisted that the Carnera bout be scheduled for fifteen rounds instead of ten. This stipulation led to considerable speculation today as to the site of the fight, with as many as ten cities, including London, Paris and Berlin, under consideration.

Jacobs likes Jersey City, Chicago, Philadelphia or New York. Of the four, Jersey City appears the logical choice. The Illinois and Pennsylvania legislatures recently failed to pass bills permitting 15-round bouts in those states, which would seem to eliminate Chicago and Philadelphia.

Mushball League Games In Evening

Games to be played this evening in the Church Mushball League follow: Central Christians vs. Trinity Episcopal, at Franklin field. Italian M. E. No. 2 vs. Epworth M. E., at Gaston field.

Preparations are being made at the Municipal Course for the July tournament, which will be held in the near future. Most of the players expecting to take part have turned in their cards for handicap, and others who have not already done so are qualifying this week. Each player must turn in three cards for his handicap. There are two classes entered, A. and B.

Players from the Municipal Links who took part in the Public Links tournament in Pittsburgh Tuesday, stated that the course is a tough one for a person who has never played it often. The longest hole on the course is but 365 yards, and there are only four holes over 300 yards in length. The shortest is but 122 yards and is guarded by a row of trees. In order to reach the green, one has to shoot over the top of these trees. It would be comparatively easy course if one were accustomed to it, the players report.

New Castle Field Club golfers will go to Grove City on July 15, where they will meet a team from the college town. The players who will participate are being selected now.

Scarazzos Wallop Universals, 12-3

"Jewie" Coen Tames First Half Champs On Wednesday Night

Frank "Jewie" Coen hurling his initial game in the Lawrence County league on Wednesday night at Centennial field for the Scarazzo aggregation, tamed the Universal Sanitary nine, first half champs. The score was 12-3.

Coen was master over the champs. In the first few innings the two teams battled to a 4-4 tie. But after that the Scarazzos scored four runs when Earl smashed out a triple to clean the bases which were full. The winners piled up 12 runs before the game ended.

This is one of the worst shellackings the Universals have received all season. George Byak featured for the Scarazzos, hitting a long drive out to center field which was good for three sacks. Calinetri also featured for the winners. The Scarazzos are in first place by virtue of the victory.

The Sacred Heart mushball team defeated the Marcella team, 13-8, in a fast hitting game played on the Genkinger lot on Lawrence street Wednesday. The hitting of L. Ross and T. Mastern were the highlights of the game.

The Sacred Heart team has issued a challenge to all teams. For games call 9258 after 7:30 and ask for Val.

North Highland Secures Players

Hoskins, Hill And Melder Join North Highland Outfit

EXPECT BIG CROWDS TO WITNESS GAMES

Paul Hoskins, Johnny Hill and Johnny Melder have been added to the roster of the North Highland team of the Lawrence County loop and it is anticipated that the North Highland outfit will be in the race for honors in the second half of the schedule.

The team was not in the first division race for the first half flag but believe, that the two victories over Brent on July 4 was but a forerunner of a successful campaign during the second half.

The team last night was to have played Hillsville which failed to show up. This gave a forfeit game to North Highland. During the practice session however, the teams appeared to have been strengthened.

North Highland fans who have been following the team will doubtless give better support than it was accorded during the first half and it is likely that big crowds will support all their games.

The team deserves support as it has been furnishing amusement for the fans in the North Hill and with prospects bright for putting up a good fight for second half honors large crowds are anticipated.

OLYMPICS AFTER GAMES

Olympics would like to arrange baseball games. Managers should call for "Chuck" at 4678-J. The Olympics will play the I. W. W. at Clifton field Friday.

Yankees Trip Boston Twice

Philadelphia Athletics Continue Stride By Pasting Washington, 6-3

CLEVELAND TRIMS WHITE SOX, 10-6

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 9.—Just when everyone was starting to forget they ever existed, the New York Yankees climbed up on baseball's pedestal today and clambered for a lot of attention. The New Yorkers managed to whip the Boston Ruddy Hose 13 to 3 and 9 to 4 yesterday, proving while not very good, they could be much worse.

The Athletics whirled out in front again by a considerable margin, defeating the Senators in the odd game of the series, 6 to 3. They are now six and one half games to the fore. Grove was not especially effective and Simmons accounted for the victory with a triple in the first inning before Lloyd Brown got going properly. The blast scored three men and Foxx brought in Simmons with a long drive.

Heine Meine toyed with the Chicago Cubs until the final inning, when the Bruins scored twice, and Pittsburgh won, 5 to 2. Six hits were all the Cubs would muster. The Chicago loss dropped them to fourth place, the idle Brooklyn Robins moving into third position, only three points behind the Giants, who are three and one half games behind the hard-pressed St. Louis Cardinals.

A fever-baked heave by wild Bill Terry presented the Phillies with a 5 to 4 triumph over the New York Giants. In the ninth Terry fielded a bunt and then threw away the ball in left field, Friberg, who had doubled, scoring with the run that counted most. Buzz Arlett, the Oakland, Calif., veteran Rookie, got two hits for the Phils.

Hudlin helped himself to the cake and victory when he whacked a single in the eleventh inning that started the Cleveland Indians on a five-run drive. The final score was Cleveland 10, Chicago 6. Hudlin replaced Brown in the seventh and had the Sox at his mercy.

Pitcher Bridges went aloft in the seventh, the Browns scoring five runs, downing Detroit 7 to 1. Blaeholder was the winning hurler. Other teams were idle.

Wampum Easily Beats Brent, 6-1

Wampum defeated Brent on Wednesday night on the Wampum field in a regular Lawrence county league tilt. The score was 6-1.

Brent took a one run lead in the first frame. Wampum overcame this small lead and then coasted home with victory. Rylot hurled for Wampum and limited Brent to four hits. Hedglin and Arrow for Brent were touched for 10 hits. For Wampum the hitting of Butcher, Dubrovich and Romeo featured while Grundy with two hits was the feature stickers for the losers.

Here's The 'Why' Of Rudy Knepper's Whip-Like Stroke

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer

copyright, 1931, Central Press

NUMBER 40

In his college days there were few amateur golfers with better driving form than Rudy Knepper.

The one noticeable feature was that he held the driver short, and put the punch into the drive as if he were handling a buggy whip.

Rudy put all his punching power in back of the ball and this was accomplished by standing to the right of the line. In other words, the ball lay off the left foot.

The power of his stroke was in the left arm and hand and additional punch was brought into play by bringing the hands and arms high above the head at the top of the backswing.

There is little difference between Knepper's form of several years ago and the form of the best star amateurs and professionals today.

Study this form and you have Bobby Jones and the same form for a player like Horton Smith.

Horton Smith will differ only in that he does not drop the wrists at the top of the swing. His club will point more to the sky, from which point he starts the whip action of the wrists.

The important points to touch are those outlined in the illustration—A, B, C, etc.—and the most important of these points is the way the hips hold the position while the shoulders swing back and around on the pivot.

Spying On Sports

WHAT A RACE!

That American Association pennant gallop is just what the doctor ordered for depression days, when bankrolls are slim and baseball fans are being lured away by golf and other interests.

It's almost too good to be true.

Those eight Association clubs are closer than a football eleven in a huddle. The difference between first and last place is so small today that the eventual winner may be the club tailing the other seven right now! And the campaign has been just that tight ever since it began.

The best part of the whole business is that the Association race promises to remain a hot free-for-all of eight flag hungry clubs right down to the wire in September.

Here's how the first division has looked on Tuesday morn of each week since the race began:

April 21—Milwaukee, St. Paul-Louisville, tied; Columbus.

April 28—Louisville, St. Paul, Columbus, Milwaukee.

May 5—St. Paul, Louisville, Milwaukee-Columbus.

May 12—St. Paul, Louisville, Columbus, Milwaukee.

May 19—St. Paul, Louisville, Columbus, Kansas City.

May 26—St. Paul, Columbus, Louisville, Milwaukee.

June 2—St. Paul, Columbus, Louisville, Milwaukee.

June 9—St. Paul, Louisville, Columbus, Milwaukee.

June 16—St. Paul, Louisville, Milwaukee, Minneapolis.

June 23—Louisville, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee.

June 30—St. Paul, Louisville, Milwaukee, Minneapolis.

July 7—St. Paul, Columbus, Louisville, Milwaukee.

On this last date July 7, only eight and a half games separated St. Paul, the leader, and Kansas City, the last-place club! There was but two games between first and second a half game between second and third, a half game between third and fourth, one and a half between fourth and fifth, two between fifth and sixth, one between sixth and seventh, and a half game between seventh and last!

And the race more than half-over!

Only Toledo, Indianapolis and Kansas City have yet to make a bid for first place, and any of these clubs can move right up among the leaders at any time.

St. Paul, Louisville and Columbus have been in the thick of the first-place fight since the season began, with Milwaukee and Minneapolis threatening many times.

Association fans are pulling for the second division clubs to get into the swim. For if they do folks will forget all about that great dash of the Boston Braves from last to first back inu '14 and the 1931 A. A. gallop will go down in baseball history as the best pennant race ever held.

Man Commits Suicide In Greensburg, Pa.

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 9.—Persistent worry over unemployment today was advanced as the reason for the suicide of Paul Anson, 65, of Scottdale, whose body was found dangling at the end of a clothesline from the ceiling of the Everson lockup. When found, Anson had been dead several hours.

What a world! Medals for the man who does other rare and difficult things, and none for the man who attends to his own business.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Public Utility And Motor Stocks Lead Day's Upturn

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Public Utility stocks and the Motors were the leaders this morning in a moderate upturn in prices. The market was irregular at best, with the Steel stocks showing further effects of the drop in mill operations and the Coppers at lower levels on the softening of Red Metal prices. Our markets, however, were not adversely affected by the weakness in Paris and Berlin and the reports of an extremely critical situation in German credits.

New advances of a point or more were recorded for Consolidated Gas, American Waterworks, Standard Gas and Electric Power. General Motors and Chrysler, leading the Motors, reached a new high on the move at 38⅜ and 23⅜ respectively, while Auburn moved up about 3 points. New York Central promptly recovered its early losses and sold above 88. Gillette was again the weak spot in the specialties, with a drop to the year's low price at 20⅝ down ½.

Professional juggling of a dwindling volume of the speculative leaders in the second hour produced an unsettled market, with short jerky price swings. U. S. Steel was sold on reports of a drop in June unfilled orders, to be shown in the corporation's monthly statement at noon, tomorrow. Decline in July and September Wheat at Chicago to the lowest levels since 1896 did not help the situation, and in the same class was the further drop in Cotton.

Rails firmed up near the noon period in the improvement in freight loadings, which it is hoped will continue. Baltimore and Ohio was a leader, with a new raise to 59, trading on the big board was again at a standstill, with preference being shown for the Utilities and Motors. Call money was unchanged at 1½ per cent.

(International News Service)

LEWISTOWN, Pa., July 10.—Mifflin county is one in the state where June marriages have not declined.

Threatened!

Pretty Mrs. William D. Taylor (above), of Brookline, Mass., the former Mary I. Hammond, was threatened with kidnaping in letters sent to her father, E. C. Hammond, at his Summer home near New London, Conn. A former Harvard student is said by authorities to have confessed writing the letters to obtain money.

Not a Good Boy

Because Violet Walker, 19, really did not look very much like a husky male hitch-hiker, her dream of transporting herself in that modern manner from Buffalo, N. Y., to Texas was spoiled by a vigilant Philadelphia policeman. When haled before a magistrate with her two bonafide boy companions, Violet, shown as a "boy," said she ran away from home when her husband deserted her.

Plans Refuel Hop

Reg L. Robbins (above), former Texas endurance flight record holder, hopes to take-off from Seattle, Wash., soon on a refueling non-stop flight to Tokio. He will be accompanied by H. S. Jones, oil man and sportsman. The pair plan to hop from Seattle to Fairbanks, Alaska, for the first refueling, fly to Nome for a final load and then start for Tokio. They seek a $25,000 prize.

Strange Story Behind the Resolve of General Umberto Nobile who Will Brave Polar Perils in Search of Roald Amundsen, Lost While Seeking Survivors of Italia Disaster

With the announcement by General Umberto Nobile, famous Italian aviator and explorer, of his forthcoming venture into the frozen Northland in search of Captain Roald Amundsen, who was lost while seeking survivors of the ill-fated Italia disaster in 1928, another chapter is added to the peculiar relations that has existed between the two men. Close friends during the brilliant exploit of the airship Norge when, with Lincoln Ellsworth, they flew across the North Pole from Spitzbergen to Alaska, events which followed the flight made them bitter enemies. When disaster overtook Nobile's Italia expedition, despite the enmity which existed, Amundsen was quick to fly to the relief of Nobile. That attempt to help his enemy was the last ever heard of the great Norwegian explorer. Now there is a hope that he may be alive, based on the story of an American explorer, Anthony Fiala, who said he left a stock of provisions on Rudolf Island in a previous expedition and that he had told Amundsen of the cache. Nobile believes that if Amundsen is alive he will have found his way to the store mentioned by Fiala, and it is there that he will seek the man who was once his friend. It is a strange story of two avowed enemies each risking his life for the other. If that be proof of enmity, the world could get along with a little more of it.

Farmers Hear Of Fruit Thinning

In order to save many fruit trees in the county from being damaged by heavy loads of fruit, County Farm Agent McCulloch today sponsored two fruit thinning demonstrations. The first of these was held at the farm of R. S. Johnston, Wilmington township at 9:30 a. m. and the second at the farm of J. A. Boak & Sons, Slippery Rock township, in the afternoon.

CHARLESTON RADIO BEACON

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 9—A new aid to navigation giving the port of Charleston, S. C., similar facilities to those available at Savannah, Jacksonville, and other Atlantic shipping points, is soon to be established at Charleston Lightship. This will be an automatically operated radio beacon, broadcasting signals which will guide vessels to the harbor entrance in both clear and foggy weather, according to the Lighthouse Service. It is expected to be in operation about August 15. To provide mariners with cross bearings, the Charleston radio-beacon will be placed in the group with Frying Pan Shoal Lightship off the North Carolina coast, and Savannah Lightship, to the southward. Picking up the signals from all three stations at the same time, vessel captains will be able to calculate their position with accuracy.

Trio Rescued After Boat Capsizes!

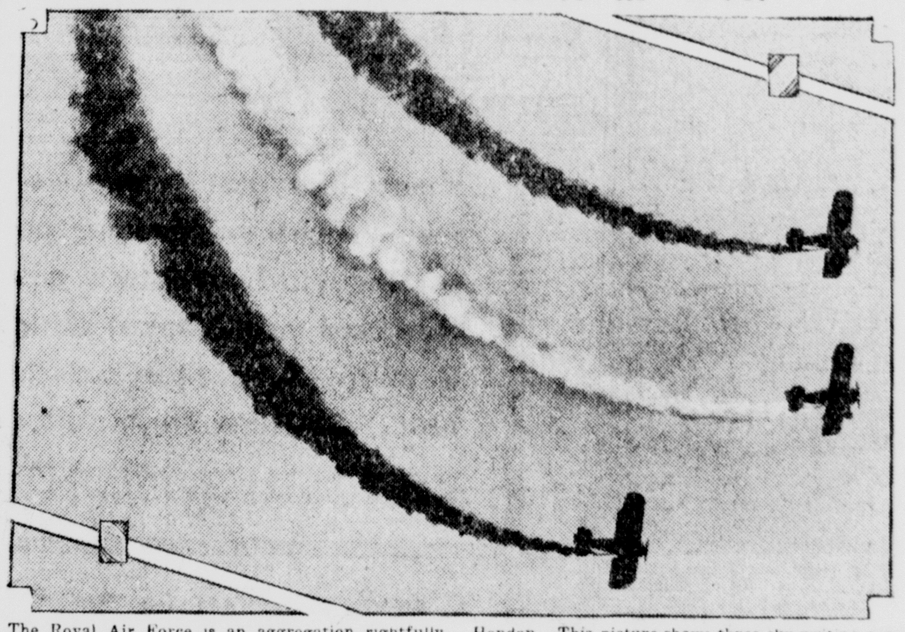
British Pilots Artists as Well



The Royal Air Force is an aggregation rightfully famous for its expert pilots, but it wasn't known that many of the British fliers were artistically, as well as aerially, inclined until recently, when rehearsals were held for the annual air show at Hendon. This picture shows three sky-writing acrobats strutting their stuff as colored smoke pours from their air chariots to form a pretty picture. American pilots may take a tip and produce a rainbow of red, white and blue in the heavens.

COUNTY HOME INMATE HIT BY AN AUTO

Wanders Away And Ends Up With Being Hit By Auto On Youngstown Road

Alfred Eaton, aged about 70, an inmate of the Lawrence county home, on the Ellwood road, was the victim of an automobile accident about 5:30 o'clock last night on Youngstown hill at the western extremity of the city.

He was walking along the road and was merely brushed by the fender of a passing automobile. Due to his feeble condition, he fell and was believed injured and was rushed to the New Castle hospital in an ambulance.

There it was found that his injuries were apparently not serious, but due to his mental inability to tell who he was, it was some time before it was learned just who he was.

At the county home it was stated today that he was at dinner last evening and then disappeared and in some manner he had reached the point of the accident within a comparatively short time. It was stated that he would be able to return to his place of residence most any time.

More Arrests In Auto Theft Ring Reported Near

(International News Service)

DETROIT, July 9—More arrests were expected today in the federal government's drive against a huge automobile theft ring which allegedly operated in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. Four men are reported to have been arrested in Canton, Ohio, and the system which the auto stealing band used has been disclosed by police.

The ring dealt exclusively with new cars manufactured in Detroit, according to federal authorities. Members working in Detroit plants discovered lock and motor numbers of cars to be delivered in Illinois and Indiana. The information was passed on to members in those states who stole the cars from private owners a few days after they were delivered.

Cars were then sold to dealers in Ohio where, it is said, the law requires only a bill of sale in the transfer of car ownership. The latter were easily forged. Members of the ring are said to have posed as auto finance company executives and in that manner were able to resell the cars without suspicion.

Federal authorities are said to have refused to divulge the names of the arrested men but they are said to be the leaders of the gang.

New York Authors Plan To Raise Fund To Provide Food

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH July 9—New York's literati, impelled by Gov. Gifford Pinchot's futile appeal to the American Red Cross, came to the aid of hungry children of destitute bituminous coal miners today.

John Dos Passos, noted author, notified the executive's office today that a committee composed of leading New York authors has begun a nationwide campaign to raise a milk fund for the children.

In a telegram to the governor, Dos Passos said:

"Thirty-nine Americans—including Lincoln Steffens, Lloyd Dell, Upton Sinclair, Mary Heaton Vorse and Sherwood Anderson—having noted your appeal to chairman John Barton Payne of American Red Cross for hungry children of coal miners in Western Pennsylvania and Payne's refusal of aid, have begun national campaign today for fund to buy milk for these children.

"We believe thousands will join us in determination that children will not starve and will give to prevent such suffering. The national committee to aid striking miners fighting starvation headquarters at seven ninety nine Broadway, New York, joins you in insisting that this is a national problem.

(Signed) National Committee to aid Striking Miners Fighting Starvation.

John Dos Passos, chairman."

P. T. Fagan, district president of the United Mine Workers of America, lauded the authors' action as "a fine thing—commendable." Fagan expressed the hope that administration of funds raised would be handled through the authors' committee rather than be turned over to any group of strikers.

Miners Are "Up In The Air" In Scotch Valley

"Down In The Mines" Means Nothing To Columbia County Miners

(International News Service)

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., July 9.—"Down in the coal mine" means just nothing to miners of Scotch valley, in Columbia county.

For miners there go up in the air to get to work.

The mine, unusual in the anthracite section, is owned by Seward Button, former state secretary of mines, John Nayduck, and Arthur Button, son of the former state mine head.

The colliery stretches along a mountain side, reaching almost to the crest, and the tunnel entrance is near the mountain top. Water runs out of the mine by gravity and the workings are cooled by breezes wafted through the tunnel, which is open at both ends. The tunnel was devised by engineers to take advantage of natural conformations of the mountain to make for economical operation.

Located in a picturesque section, the mine is unusual also because there is no mine village near it. Workers are recruited from Beaver Valley, Mountain Grove and other towns while many farmers in the locality supplement their agricultural incomes by work in the mine.

War Of Words On Tariff Growing

Democrats Draw Fire In Attack On Tariff—Smoot Is Defender

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 9—The latest war of words over the tariff barriers, erected by the last congress, was continued today with Senator Smoot (R) of Utah(co-author of the law, calling on Democratic leaders to itemize their demands for lower rates.

Smoot challenged the Democratic leaders of congress to petition lower rates on sugar and wool from the U. S. tariff commission. He declared Jouett Shouse, executive secretary of the Democratic national committee, had attacked both rates but that no congressional leader would support the attack.

Smoot defended the bill vigorously against the criticisms of Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic leader of the Senate. The Utah senator demanded that Robinson too name the specific rates considered too high by the Democrats.

"Notwithstanding the jury of words which Democratic spokesmen have heaped upon the Smott-Hawley act, only one representative party leader has ever publicly named rates in the act which he considers too high" said Smoot. "That Democrat is Jouett Shouse and the items named were sugar and wool. The present rates on these two commodities were written with the active cooperation of Democratic Senators and they will be lowered, if at all, only over the most strenuous objection of democrats in both Senate and house."

The Democrats meanwhile were reported planning a systematic attack on the tariff while the Republicans have revealed they intend to initiate a campaign defending the law. The present war of words merely will pave the way to raising the tariff issue next year in congress.
